The Orbit Predicts

New Horizons . . . . .

Dedication To the members of the senior class, the pioneers of tomorrow, we dedicate the 1939 Orbit. We commend you for your past achievements and challenge you with new worlds to conquer.

Preface This year, Oklahoma's Golden Anniversary, marks a date for paying tribute to the progress that our state has made during the past fifty years. From the rough, unsettled, frontier country that Oklahoma Territory was in 1889 it has changed into a progressive agricultural and industrial state which boasts of towering buildings, thriving industries, advanced professions, extensive transportation facilities, and educational centers.

The past fifty years have been mainly devoted to developing basic institutions which are the fundamentals of progress. Today the essentials of advancement are set up and are ready for this generation to begin the second era of decided progress.

In addition to professions, highly specialized, and governmental positions, there are 655 industries in Oklahoma, each offering wide vocational possibilities to the citizens of tomorrow. The modern trend of business is to expand, to advance, and to employ new talent; this should create more positions and opportunities for the high school graduate.

The Orbit staff of 1939, in eulogizing the progress Oklahomans have made in the past, has chosen to point out some of the advanced institutions in the state with reference to the high school graduate and his place in the progress of tomorrow. In many of the vocations which Oklahoma offers to its citizens, the high school graduate is already trained and equipped; for other more specialized occupations, Oklahoma has established schools in which students may study and prepare. With the "detail" work almost completed and with today's eager generation well prepared, there should indeed be a triumphant, sweeping march of progress during the next fifty years.

MR. BAKER

For the past six years, the man at the wheel and the "Mr. Fix-It" of Classen's problems, has been Mr. Ira W. Baker. Inside the walls of Room 120, where the "Principal's Office" sign hangs out, innumerable students have received help from a principal who has always been willing to guide, and his friendly interest has put not a few wayward Classenites on the right road. A principal with a great many tasks, Mr. Baker has rarely been too busy to straighten out the woes of a student needing his counsel.

Administration

C. K. REIFF
Superintendent

Under the direction of Mr. Baker, Mr. Wallace and the faculty, with the co-operation of the school board and an efficient office force, Classen has again completed another year of successful, progressive administration.

Mr. C. K. Reiff, superintendent of Oklahoma City public schools, attends to the supervision and welfare of all city schools. Under him are the Board of Education members who are Robin Knight, Warren H. Edwards, Ed L. Hisel, Dave R. McKown, Earl W. Miller, Sam Rice, jr., J. Wiley Richardson, Al Robinson, and Roy J. Turner.

CHARLES WALLACE
Vice-Principal

Miss Isalona Carter, Mrs. Helen Bean, and Mrs. Mavanee Johnson constitute the backbone of the office force. With the aid of student assistants, the group does a neat job of filing and clerical work.

ORBIT CLASSEN

CLASSEN LIFE

So now the Classen Life staff can wring the printer's ink from their corpuscles and put away their scoops until next season. Ed Betty Pickren and Boss Raborn have waltzed the old sheet through another stanza successfully. Although the motto "I'd die for the dear old Classen Life" hasn't yet been practiced, some almost did by special request when their columns didn't show up on time. But "Momma" Moore has kept the brood in line, and they're looking for "new worlds to canker" next year.

Distribution is where Business Manager Betty Louise Fullen, head of the "Here's Your Classen Life" brigade, does her noble duty.

The Copy Desk is where Martha Lou Miller, Miss Zona Moore, sponsor, Ann McQuown, Virginia Weaver, David Sureck, and Patty Roberts mingle in a jaw session. The columnist, "momma," exchange ed, flunky, columnist, and girls' sports ed, respectively, exchange a few ideas about what's what and why.

Sports Writers Avrum "Sammy Soph" Raskin and Henry Jackson gaze at a picture for the sports page over the manly shoulder of Sports Ed George Gibbons. This capable trio writes all the sports forecasts, results, and comment in the Life.

Columnist Jeanne Cendow delves into Jeanette MacDonald's past when that lovely songstress concertized at the University of Oklahoma. Jeanne also keeps tab on the various activities and achievements of Classen alumni.

MARY MARJORIE PRICE

Football Queen

The football boys broke an old tradition this year when they elected comely brunette Mary Marjorie Price to be their queen; she was the first in several years, not a cotton-top. Mary Marjorie officially received her royal office at the Shawnee-Classen football game, November 4.

Runners-up in the queen election and attendants to Mary Marjorie at the coronation ceremonies were Martha Lou Miller, Virginia Moore, Margaret Jane Kernodle, Marian Briscoe, Jean Ince, Jean Ferris, and Billie Jean Spivey.

CLASSEN

ANNE FEILD

Basketball Queen

Vivacity was the quality sought in a queen when the basketball fellows chose their royal lady, and Anne Feild, a junior chuck full of that quality, was the girl they chose. Captain Charley Bethel escorted Anne to her throne of honor at a Comet Capers program in March.

Four other Comet beauties who played ladies-in-waiting to Anne were Mozelle Carlock, Betty Chappell, Jean Ferris, and Velma Fern Gragg.

MARY VAUGHN OLIVER

Blue Jacket Queen

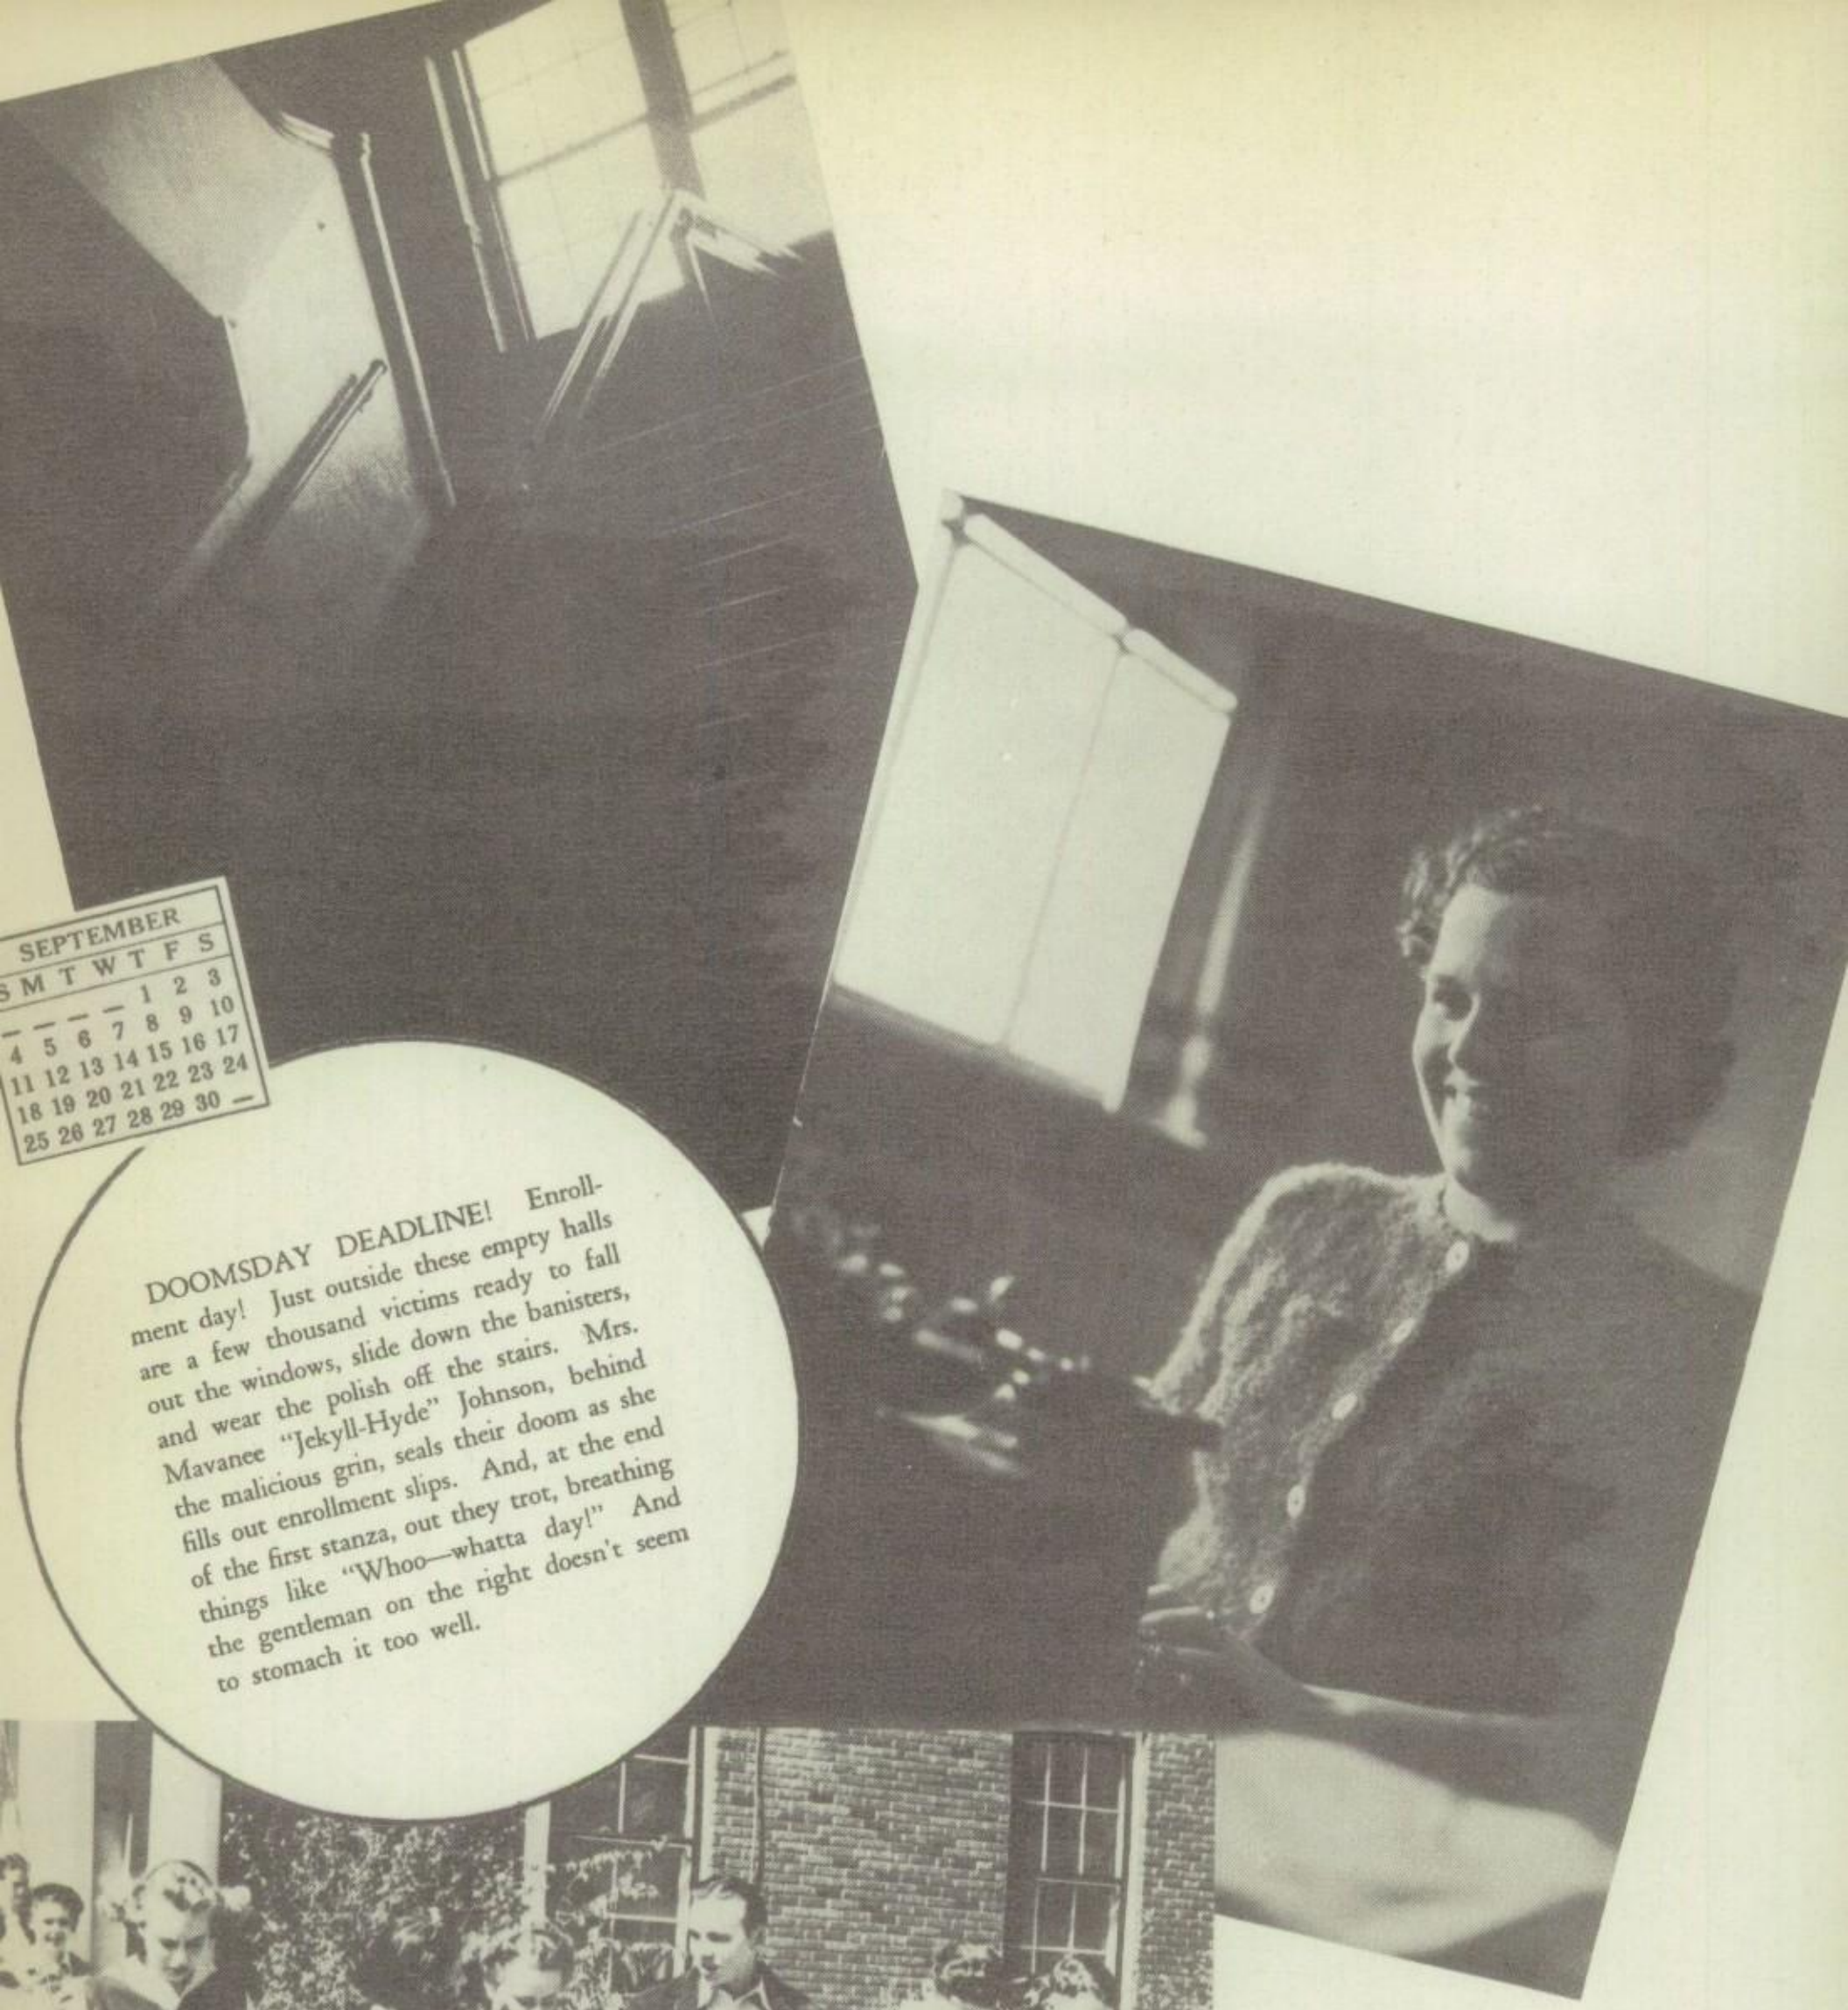
QUEENS

IMA JEAN DARENDINGER

Band Queen

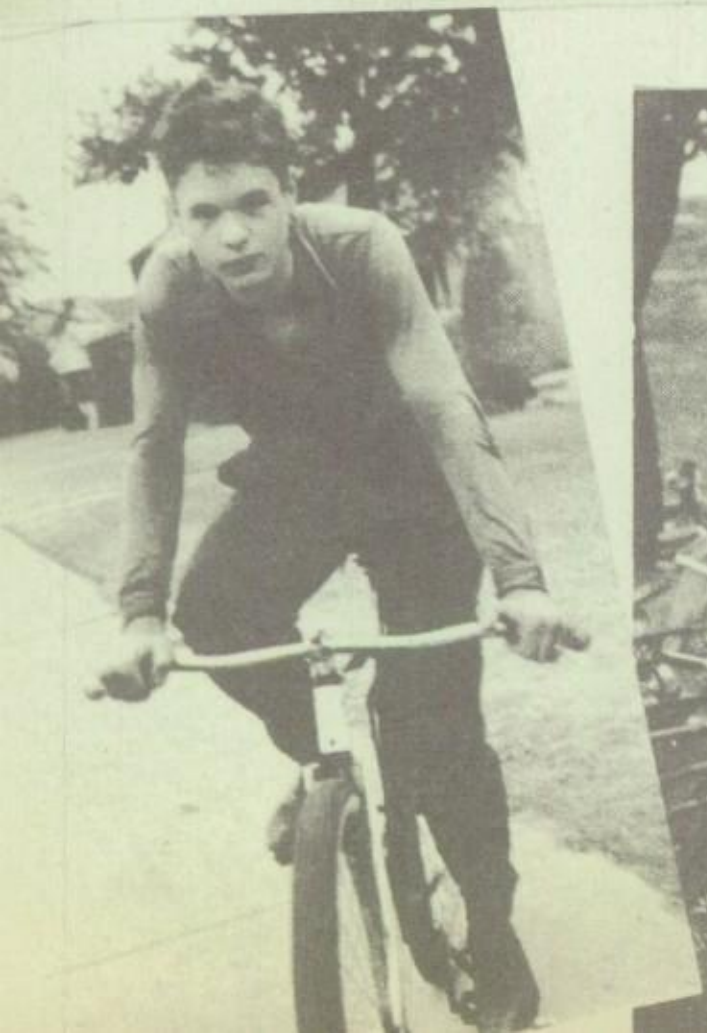
Although in her first year at Classen, Ima Jean Darendinger became a well-known figure in Classen early in the school year. When time came for the band to choose a queen to march at the front in parades, Ima Jean was selected.

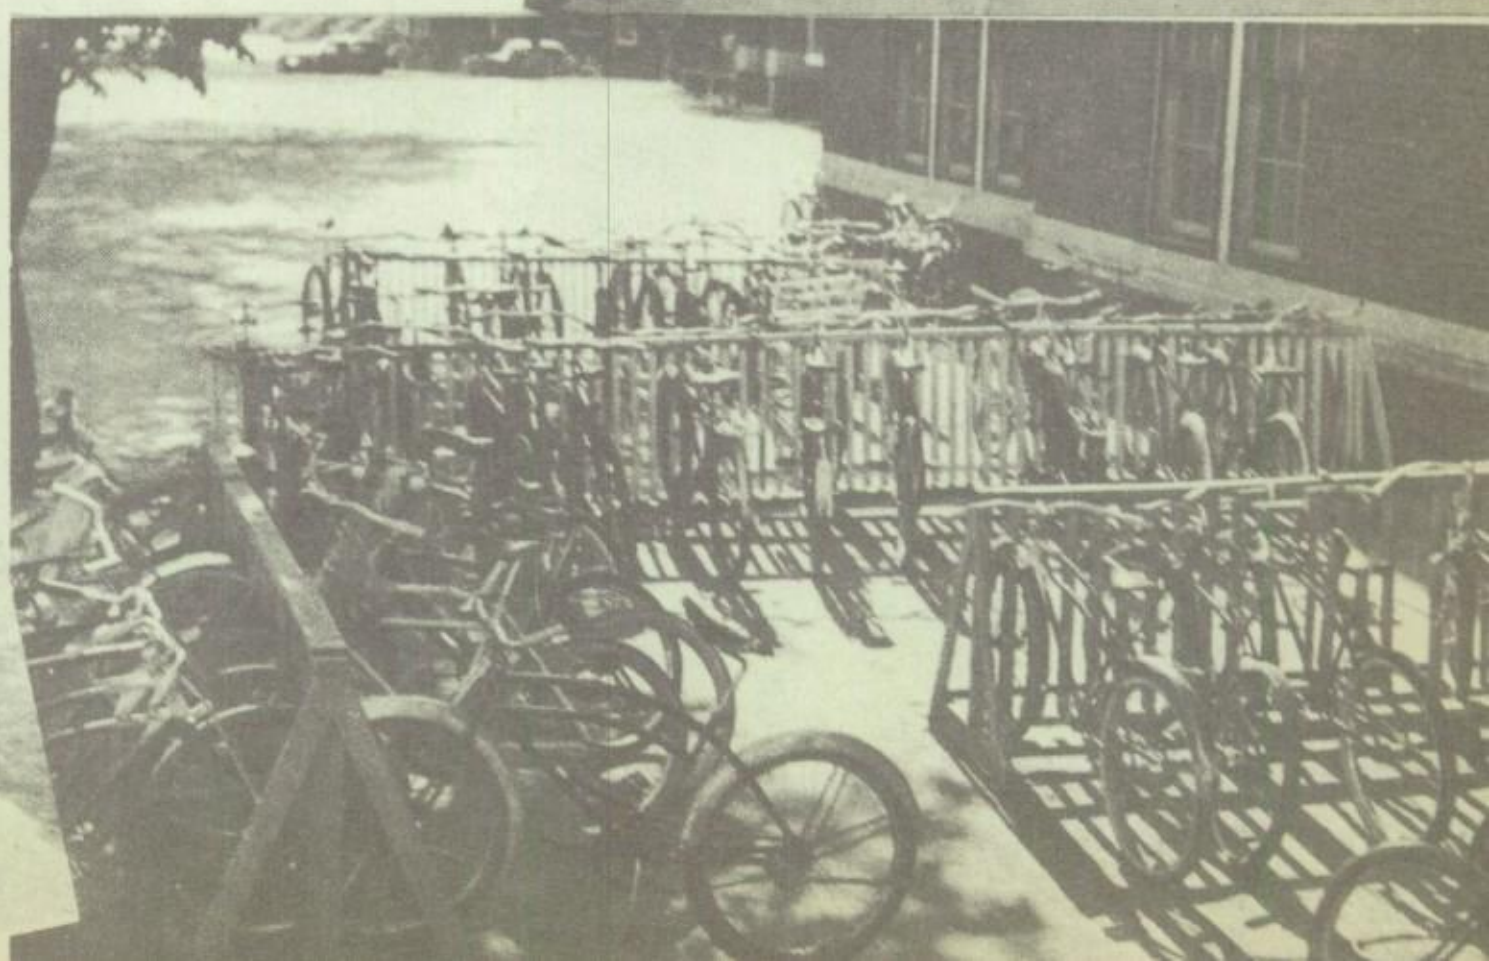
At all affairs in which this group of musicians has participated Queen Ima Jean in her traditional blue and gold uniform has made her appearance escorted by Fred Ewing.



DOOMSDAY DEADLINE! Enrollment day! Just outside these empty halls are a few thousand victims ready to fall out the windows, slide down the banisters, and wear the polish off the stairs. Mrs. Mavanee "Jekyll-Hyde" Johnson, behind the malicious grin, seals their doom as she fills out enrollment slips. And, at the end of the first stanza, out they trot, breathing things like "Whoo—whatta day!" And the gentleman on the right doesn't seem to stomach it too well.

LO AND LOOKIT! Classen goes to school. And the little lady slinks out of the big black bus. Or is it? Stanley Lee, Sidney Upsher, and go-juice make the 18th street drag. Some prefer hosspower, but the little guy with the big mouth seems happy enough using the heel-toe method. Others prefer the sit-down-and-walk way, a la bicycle. Right, stalls for ye olde speedy steeds.

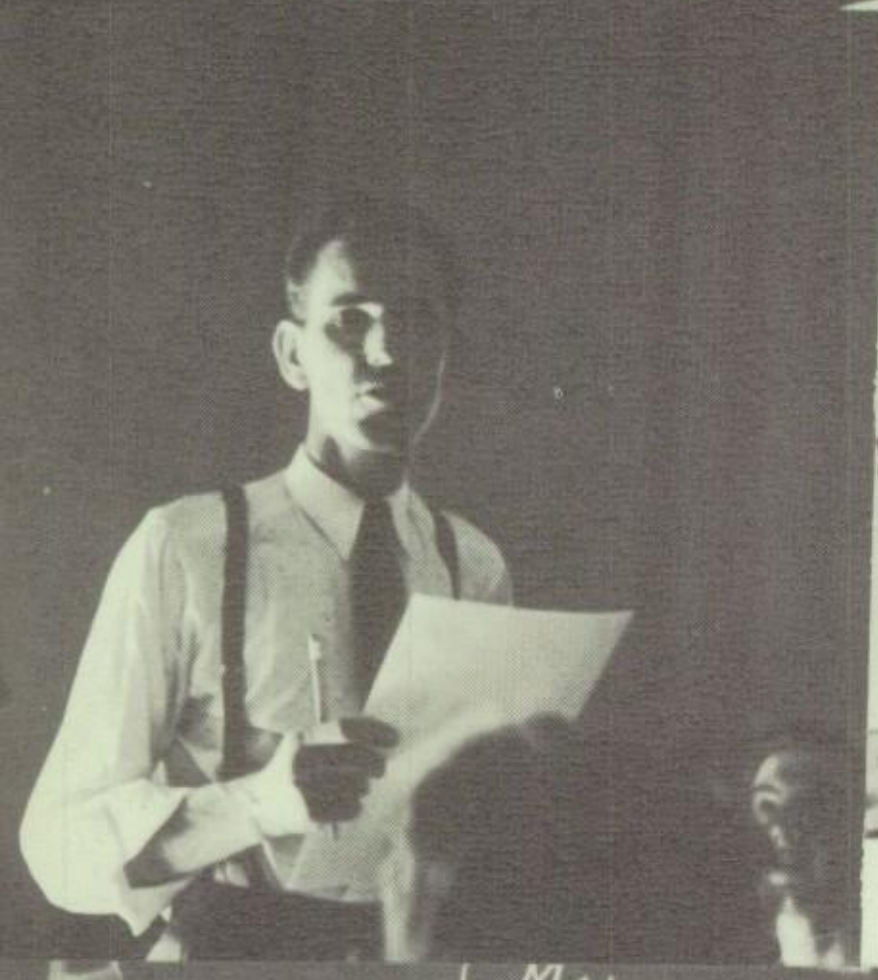




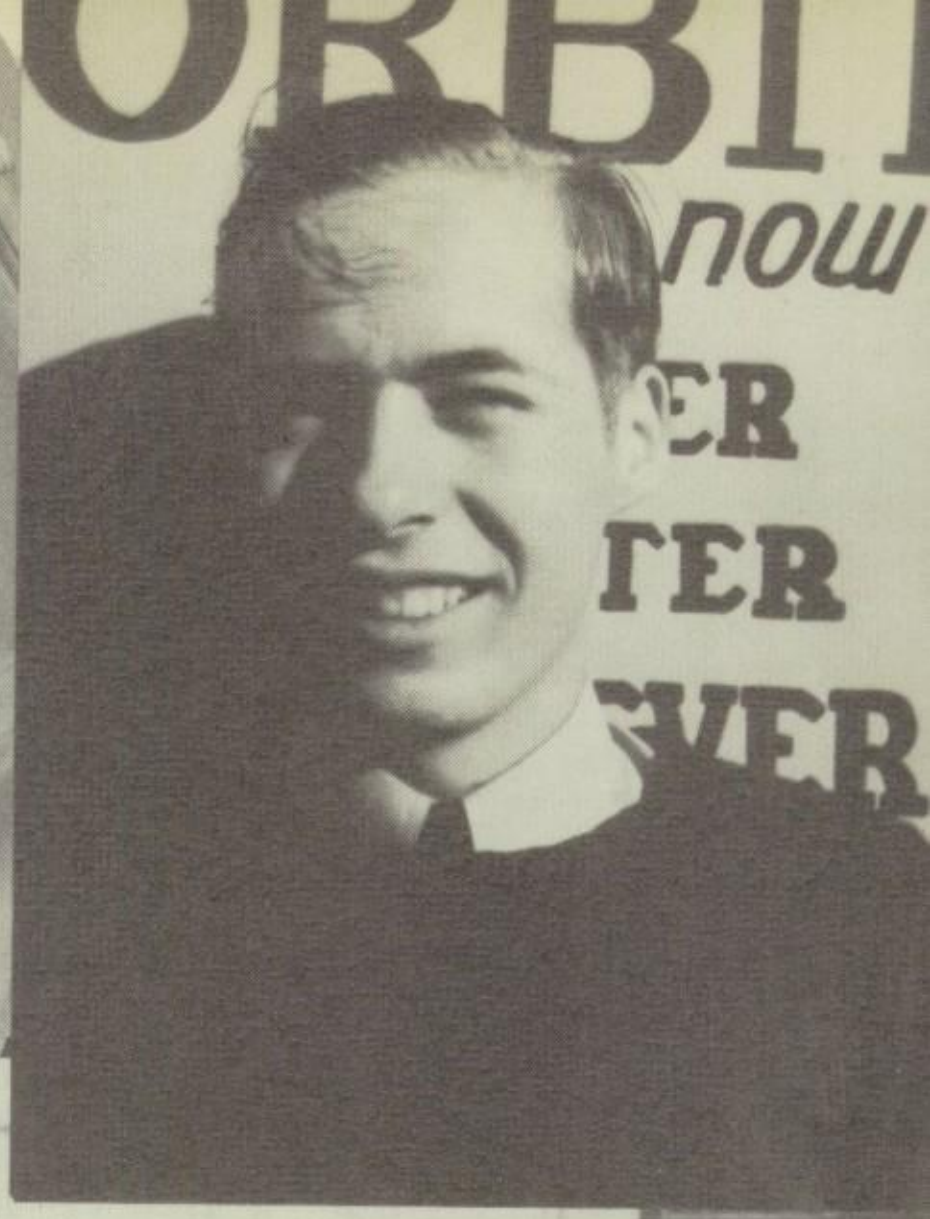
PRESENTING the Boys' Quartet —Mose Lewis, Jimmy Bryant, Loren Tindall, Jack Potts, and piano. The piano's good too. The center shot isn't a toothpaste ad; nay, rather it's Angelene Collins, Ruth Caldwell, Mose Lewis, and Jon-without-the-h Shockey, all of whom compose the body and soul of the Mixed Quartet. The Girls' Quartet, Angelene Collins, Betty Lou Pollock, Marjorie Ann Winfrey, and Evelyn Snyder, specialize in nifty harmonizing, too.

THERE MUST BE SMOKE, because there's plenty of fire as the Comets hold this "housewarming" Victory Bonfire following the Classen-Shawnee pigskin tussle. Football Queen Mary Marjorie Price, escort Maury West, and assorted attendants, at the same game, are backed by the Comet band. Leather-lungs Roger Snodgrass, Martha Lou Miller, Betty Jean Van Ness, Sammy Cotton, and the rest of the gang make this Comet Capers a howling success.

YE OLDE JURY, as in "Trial By Jury", shakes out an 18th century Q-Suzy. Angelene Collins, plaintiff, beats a tattoo upon the anemic chest of defendant Mose Lewis, who, in the play, of course, is a two-timing, triple-crossing, four-flushing old boogyman. Ed Keyes and Martha Lou Miller, co-starring in "Cowboy From Brooklyn", and Bill Saied and Diane Gordon, as "Pa" and "Ma" drag in the belly-laffs. Jimmy Hancock, Keyes, and Paul Fuller, are perhaps looking for an honest man. Back to the Trial, it all works out that Collins and Judge Loren Tindall are "that way", and ole man Mose goes right on four-flushing.



BAND QUEEN Ima Jean Darendinger decides Jimmie Sibley takes the cake, as Johnnie Green sheds a last longing "lemme at it" glance in its direction, at the Band Box-Supper and Cake-Walk. Henry Gublick and Ben Jenkins breathe out a lungbuster. Boss Oakley Pittman in a typical pose. Warfield Ross, Jack Potts, unidentified torso, and tonsil dusters. The Marjorie Johnston-Wayne Reneau duet in harmony, yes?



PRESENTING the new Rocket bleat-leaders: Naomi Pugh, Billie Marie Askew, Betty Jean Van Ness, and Kathryn Mobley. Bob King, Orbit biz-manager, sports a toothsome giggle. The Orbit queen contestants—anyone you know? Fred Pahlke and Gawge Gibbons exchange a few adverbs. La Maxine Cooper's swim team won the city struggle—hence the grin.

MARION BOOKER thumbs through her Bennett for some last-minute cramming before that English 4 quiz. Like rats from a sinking ship, Classenites trot from the torture-chamber when the fire-bell rings. But it's a false alarm. Anybody got a match? Another type of concentration, only this looks more like a concentration camp. But it's merely a locker inspection. Ed Smith, swollen-konked because of his proctor-chairmanship appointment, plays executive. Note the feet-on-table effect.

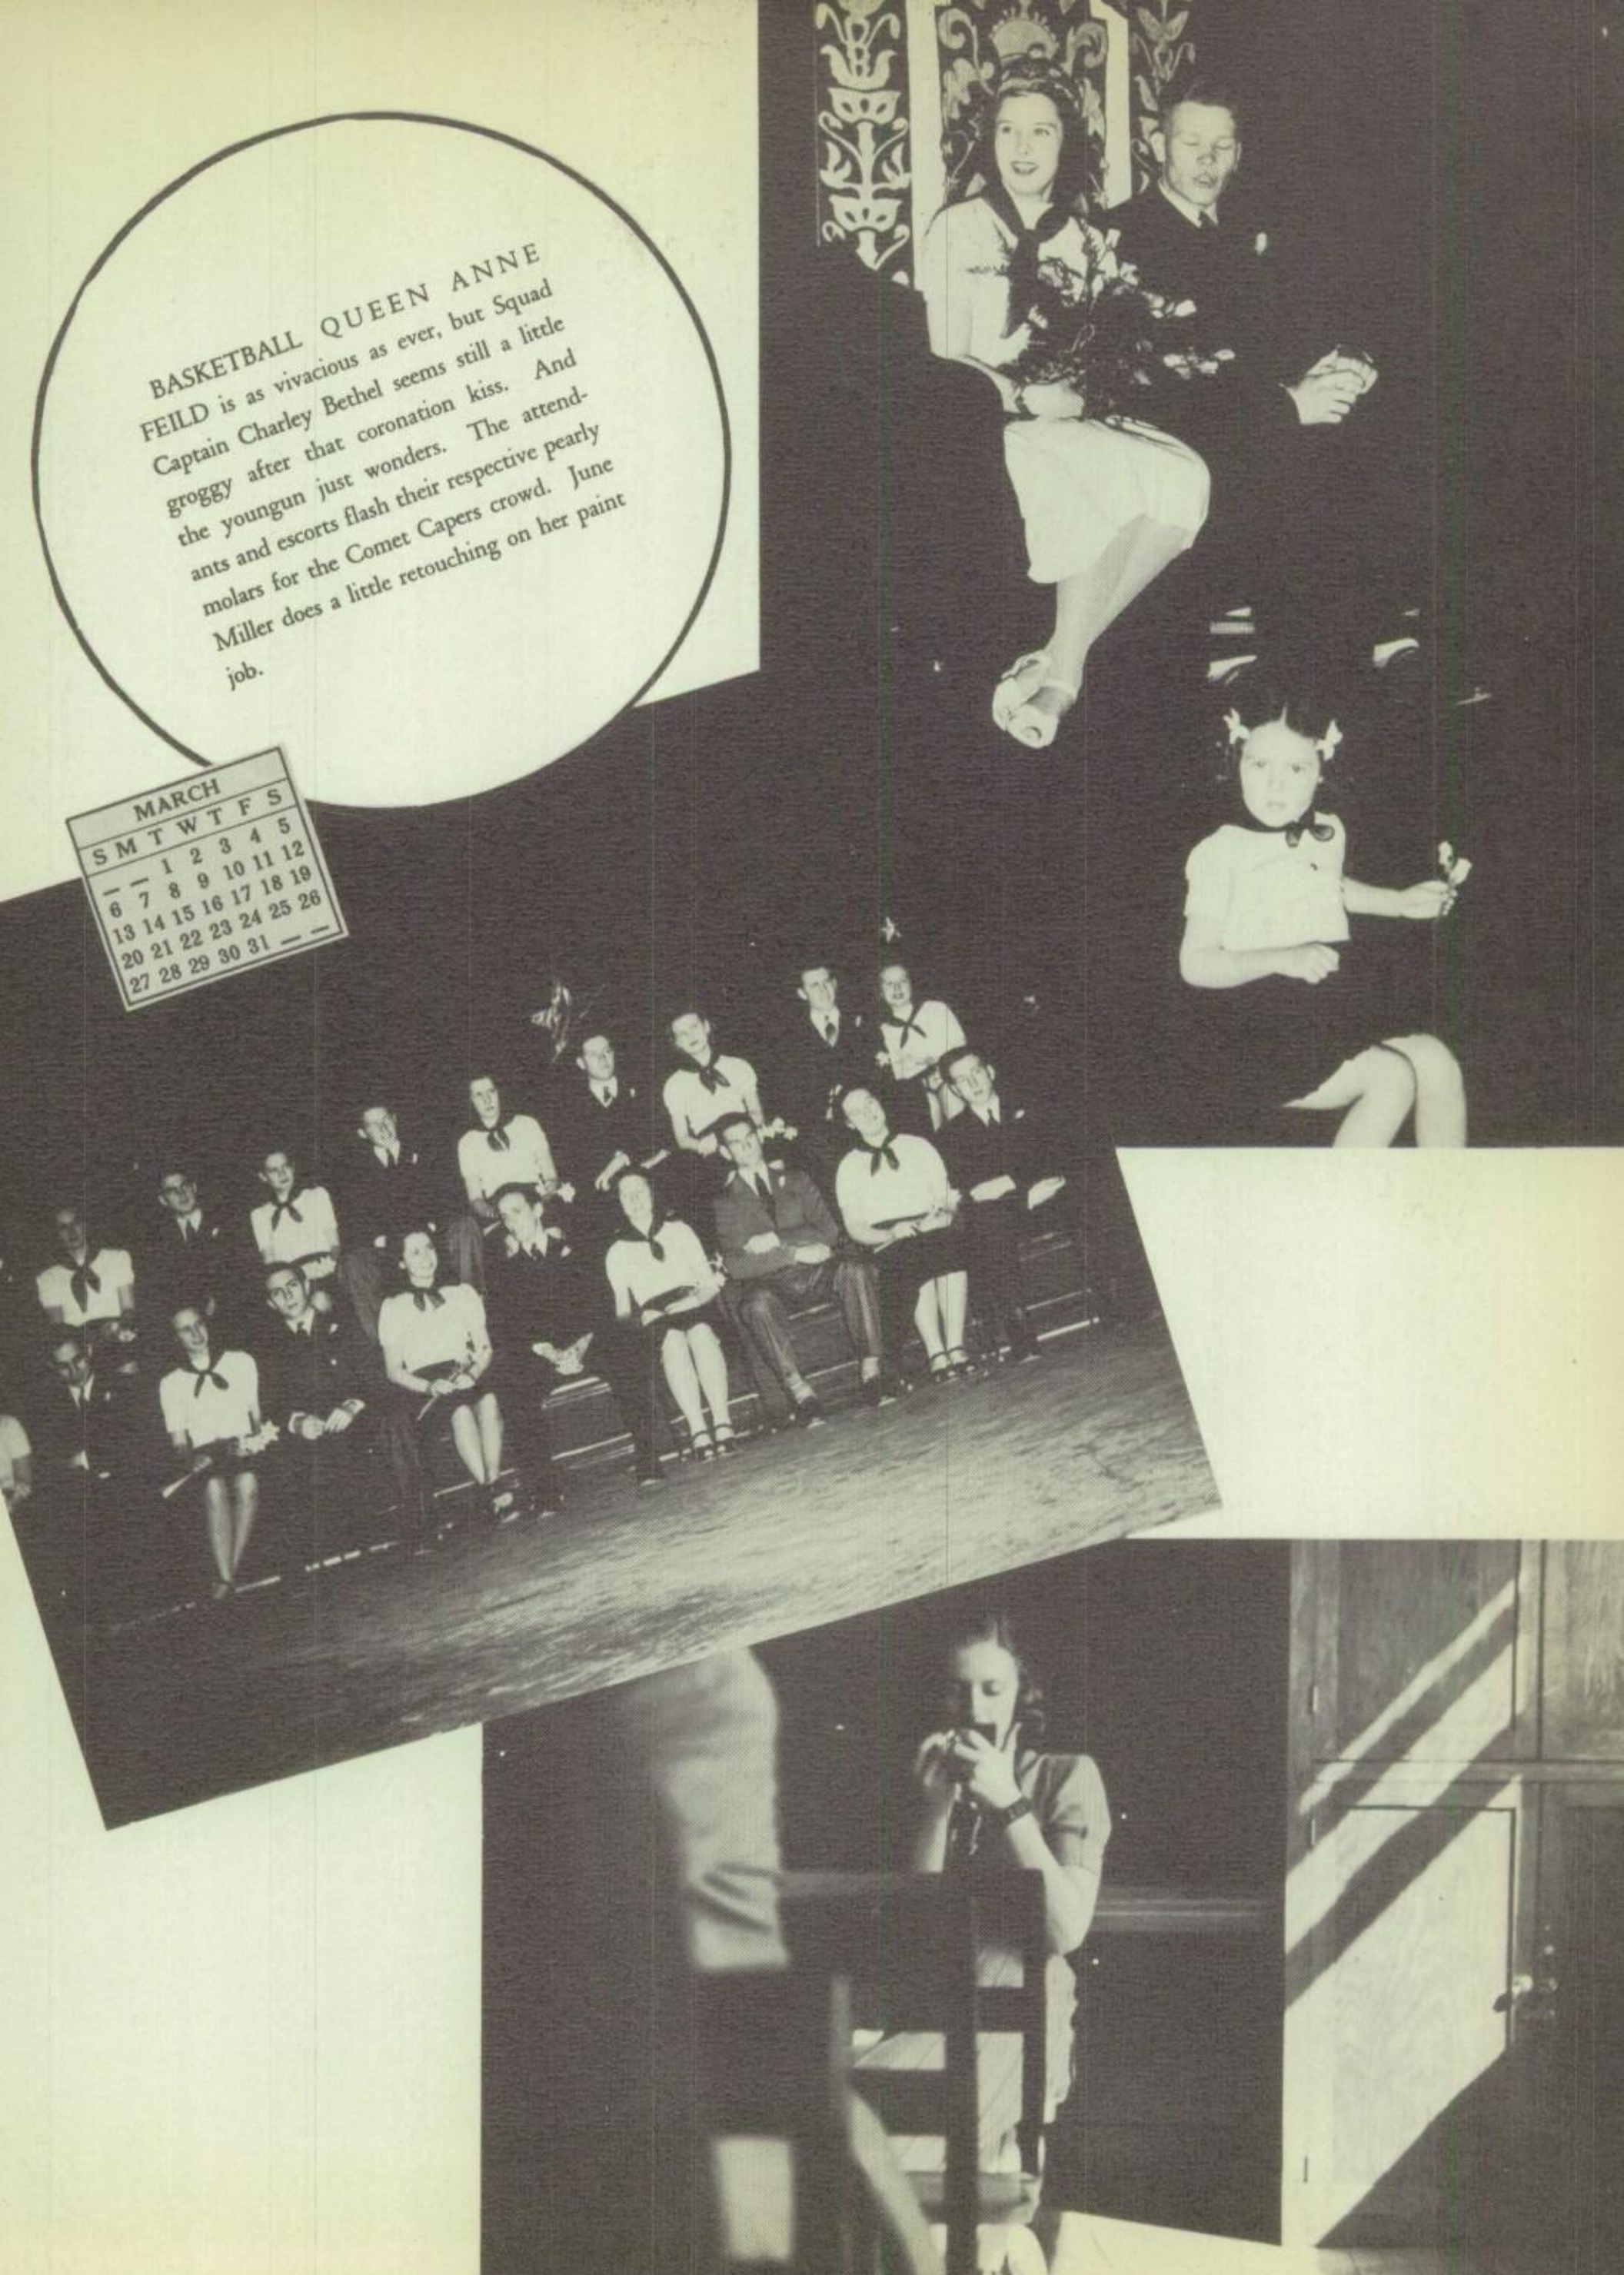
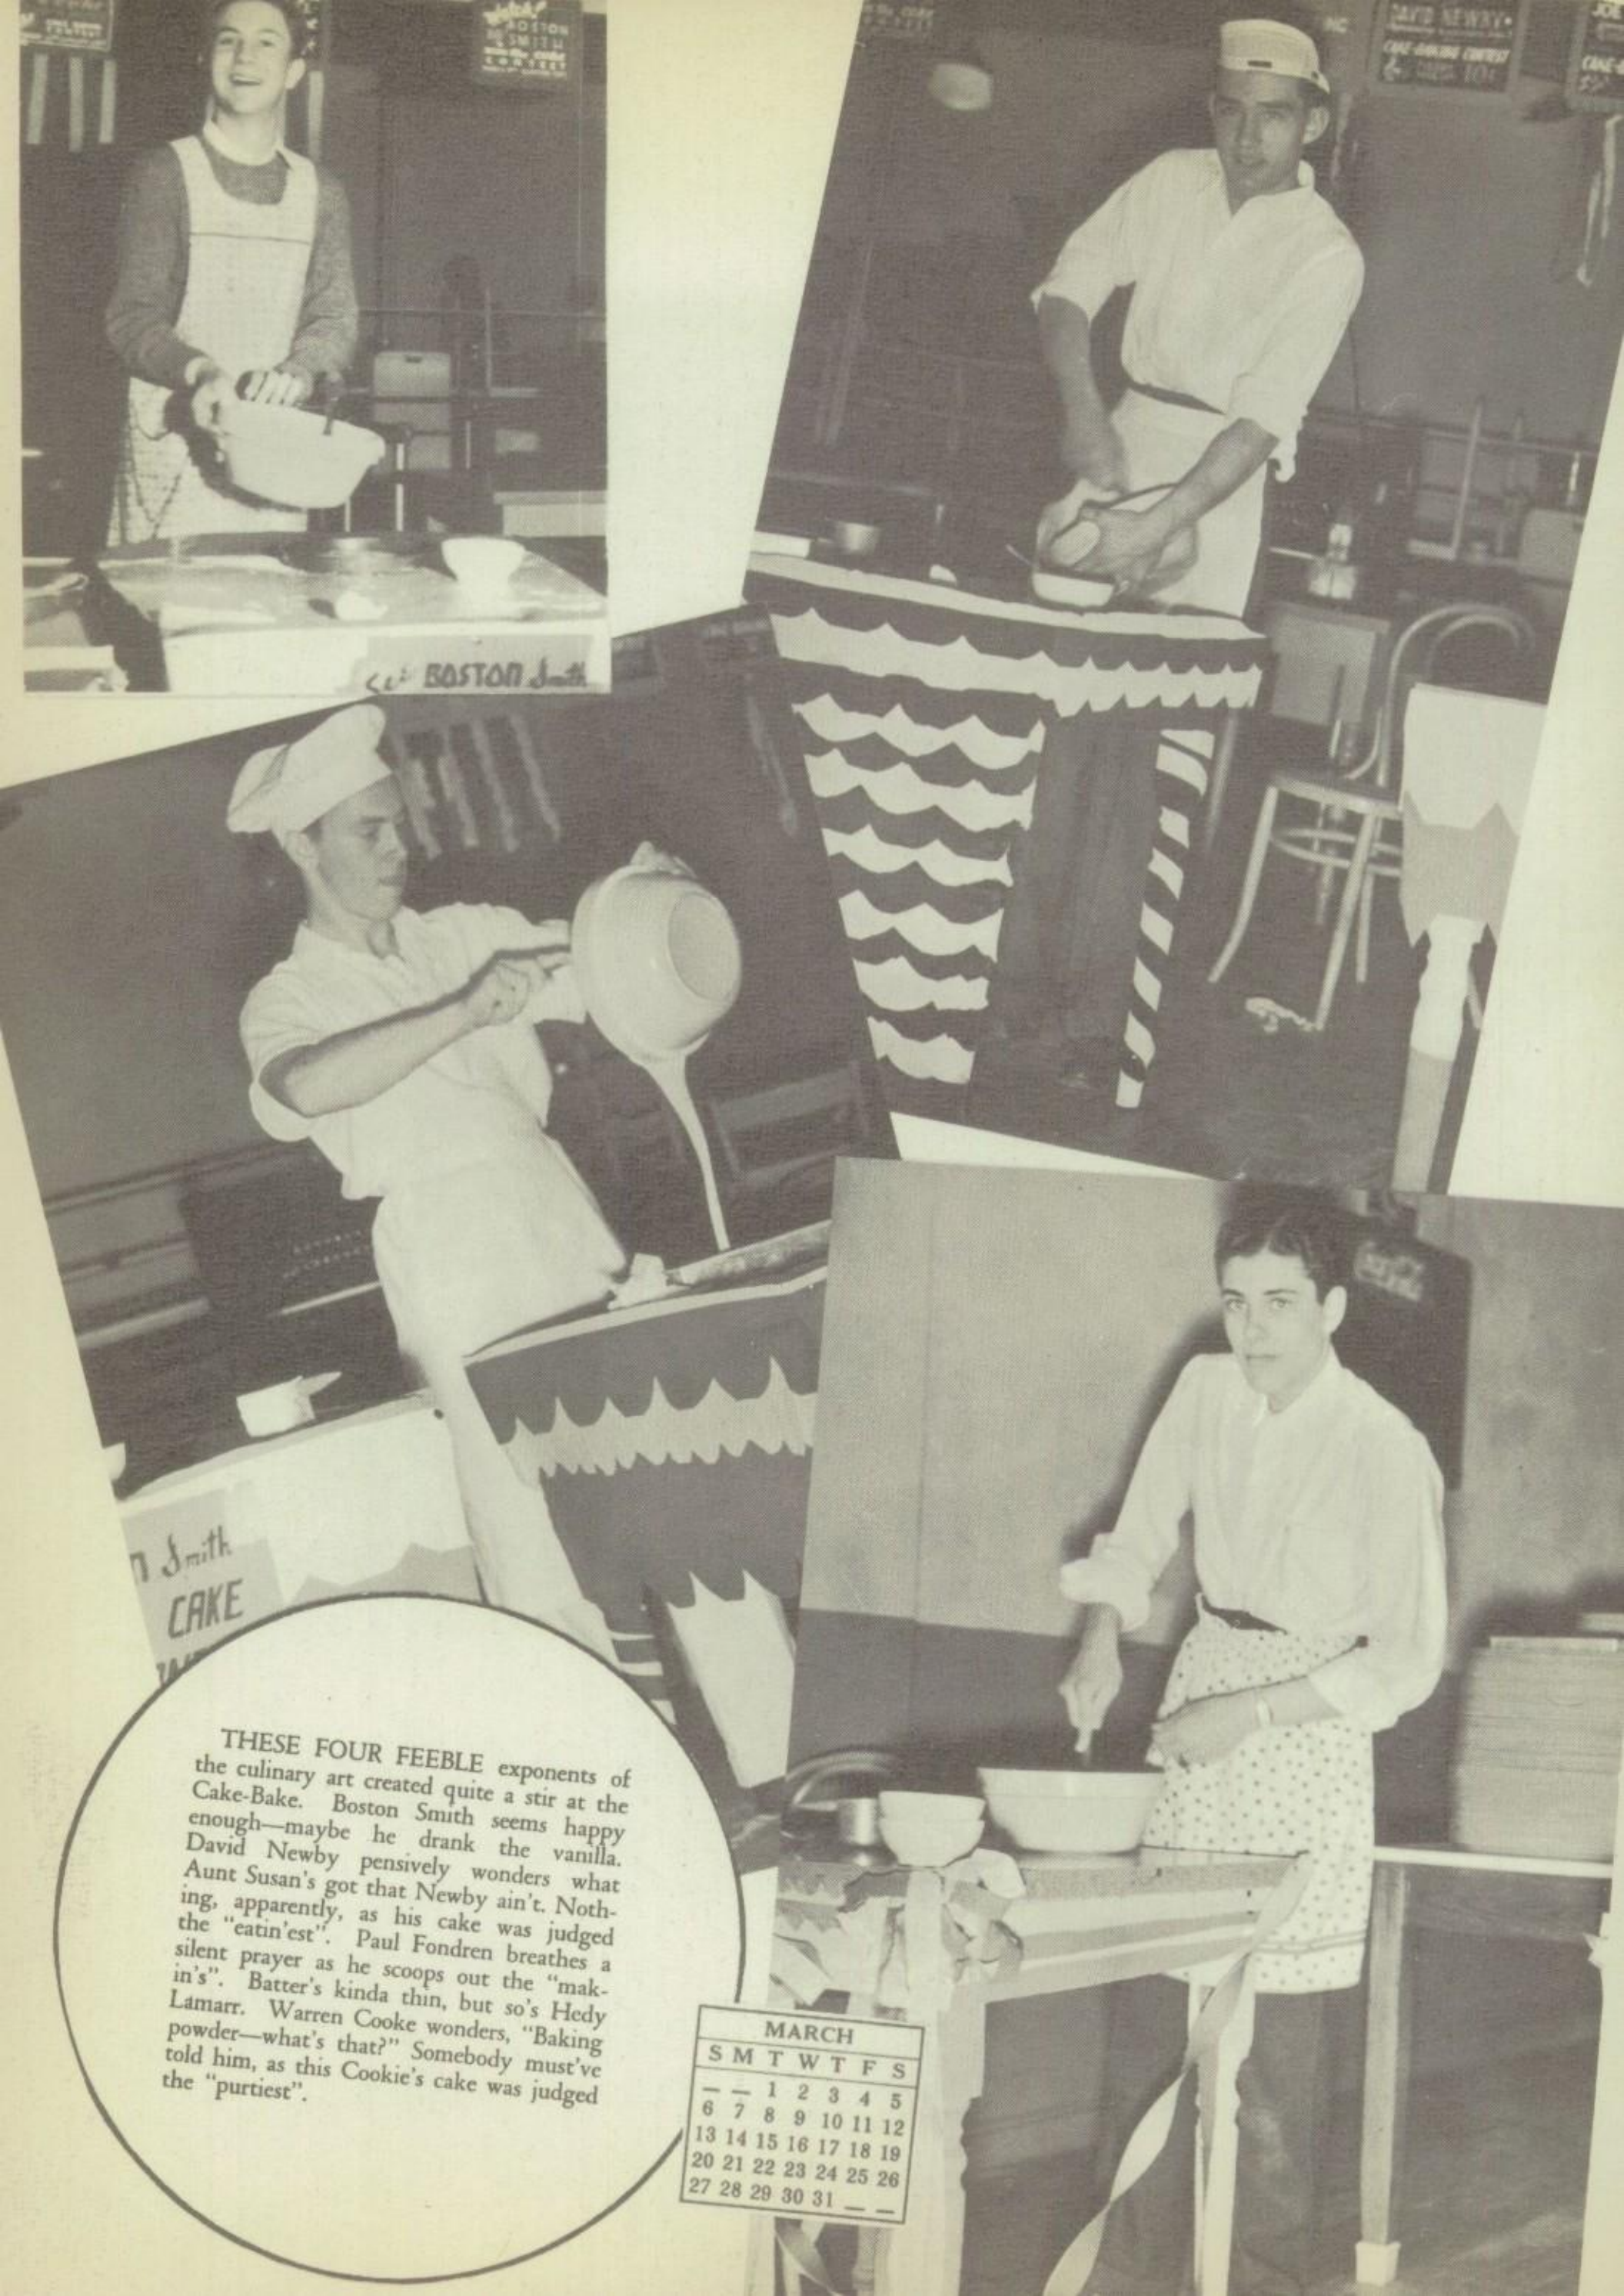
HARRIETTE OLSON, behind the accordion, plays gate and swings wide for Swing Queen Waltrude Connally and Hizzoner Bob Land. Announcer Perry Ward, Joe Morgan, and the imperial twosome smile for the nice man with the bird. Below, Doris Parks and Dale Taylor execute a nifty twitch, backed by Charley Good and Co.

BASKETBALL QUEEN ANNE FEILD is as vivacious as ever, but Squad Captain Charley Bethel seems still a little groggy after that coronation kiss. And the youngun just wonders. The attendants and escorts flash their respective pearly molars for the Comet Capers crowd. June Miller does a little retouching on her paint job.





THESE FOUR FEEBLE exponents of the culinary art created quite a stir at the Cake-Bake. Boston Smith seems happy enough—maybe he drank the vanilla. David Newby pensively wonders what Aunt Susan's got that Newby ain't. Nothing, apparently, as his cake was judged the "eatin'est". Paul Fondren breathes a silent prayer as he scoops out the "makin's". Batter's kinda thin, but so's Hedy Lamarr. Warren Cooke wonders, "Baking powder—what's that?" Somebody must've told him, as this Cookie's cake was judged the "purtiest".

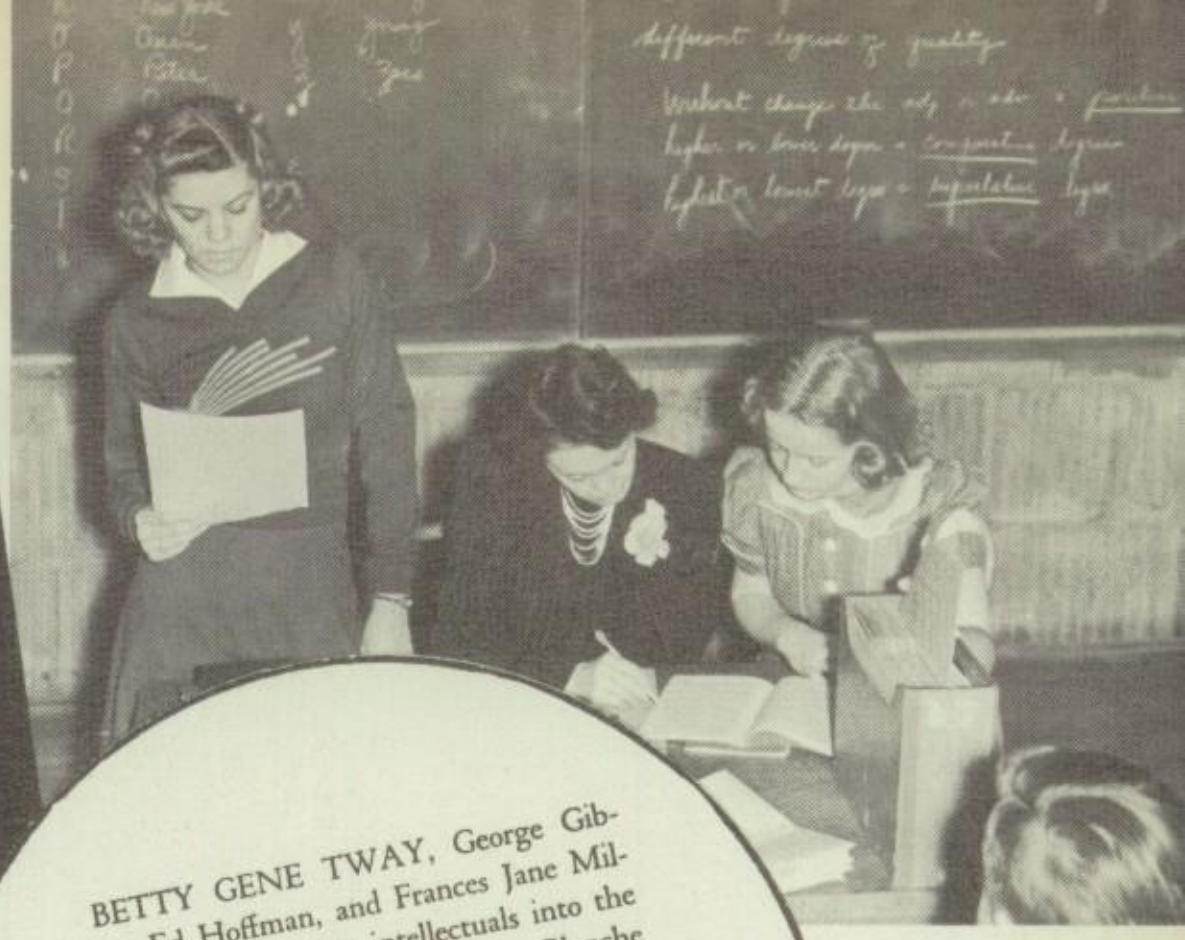
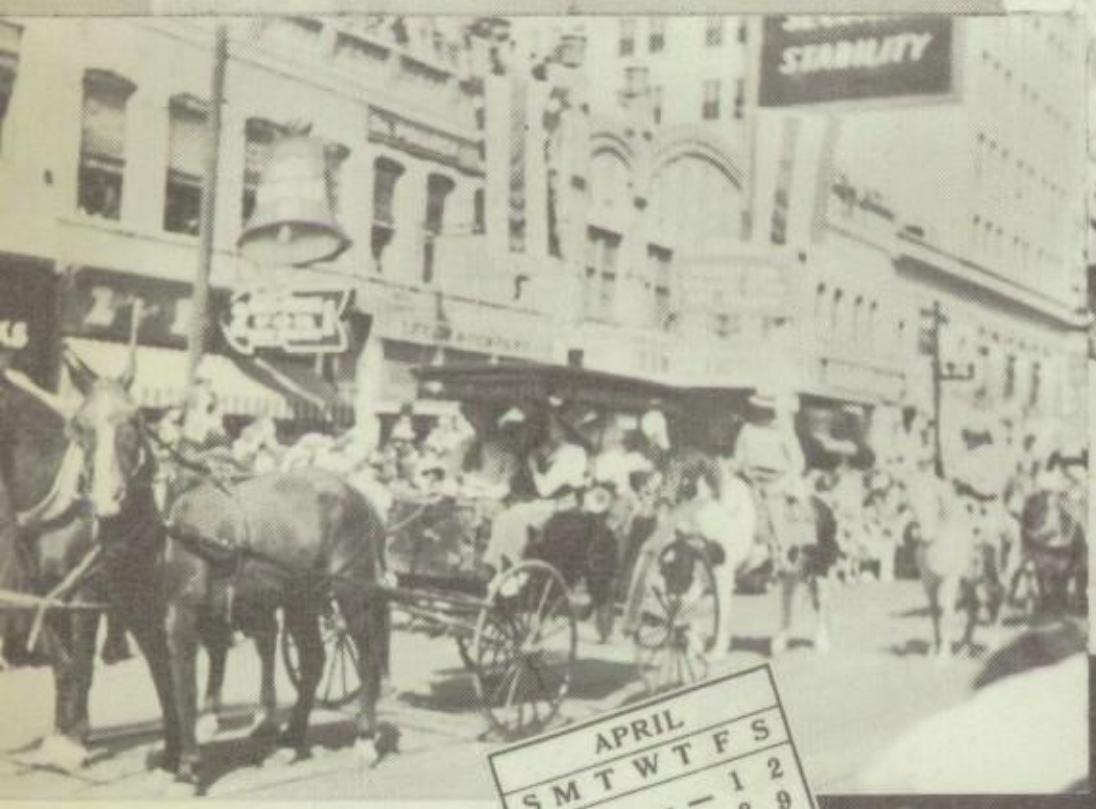
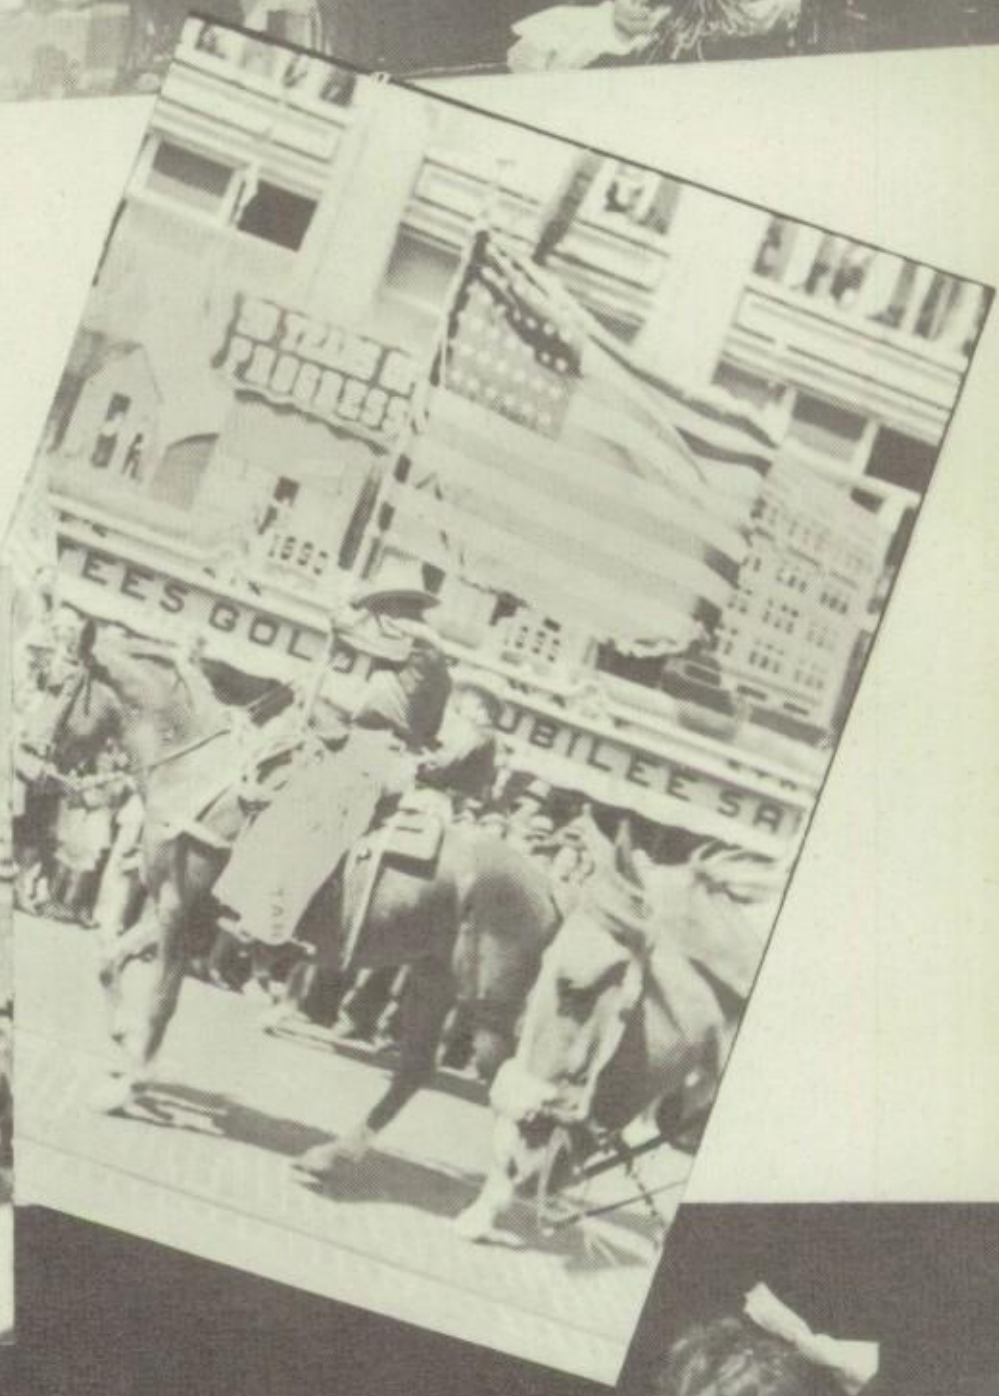
"AWWWW, CUT IT OUT, FELLAS", chortles Winston Howe, as Ray Hart and Carl Shipman catch him offguard and bestow a few osculatory tokens upon his physiognomy. Dan Aggas, supported in more ways than one by Jim Irwin and Lynn McGuire, does a shady fadeout. Bill Saied and David Sureck, hiding behind the shrubbery, are dreaming up a way to spring a sick friend who is main guest in "da clink". It's all very bewildering, but everything turns out okay, and everybody's happy except Sureck, who broke his garter.



BETTY GENE TWAY, George Gibbons, Ed Hoffman, and Frances Jane Millard initiate the green intellectuals into the National Honor Society. Miss Blanche Paul's typical advisory—Lexine Collins reads the daily bulletin, while Miss Paul does a little advising. Paul Fondren makes little ones out of big ones in woodwork. Donald Wallace, another musical dervish, directs his own brain-child, "The Great Southwest". This boy's good and should go places.

WINTER'S WENT, and from the looks of these, spring's in the act of springing, or reasonable facsimile. Specimen A, ogle the ladies under the purty hankies. Or watch the little fella cool his tonsils with some stiff chocolate moo-juice. Or lend the glims to the cafeteria kiddoes, drinking out of empty pop-bottles. Or pitch your pupils at the glass of sky-juice and Warren Cooke. Or lookit the Art Nouveau spread-out.





LAURAMAE YOUNG is dressed in her granmammy's best, trying to look like an '89er, but she doesn't look a day over 88. Price, Hoffman, Van Ness, Jacobs, Christian, Houston, Hoffman (duplicate) and Moore adorn the Classen float in the '89er Parade. And remnants of the hoss-and-carriage days. No wonder they ran. Also fugitives from a livery stable. Lynn Christian does a little apple-polishing for Paul Opp. And cast optics on the little brown jug.

"RELAX, FELLAS, IT'S ON THE JUNIORS!" So these seniors loosen up and step it off at the Junior-Senior Prom May 4. A la tradition, the juniors annually dig down and produce a final blow-out shindig for their graduating betters, or are they? Richard Morton and Doris Pollock wait while Kenton McGee drags Lauramae Young from the back seat. Then comes the general mob scene, sprinkled with coke-guzzlers, stag-line quips, and "howdy-do's". And the Prom was put to bed until next year.

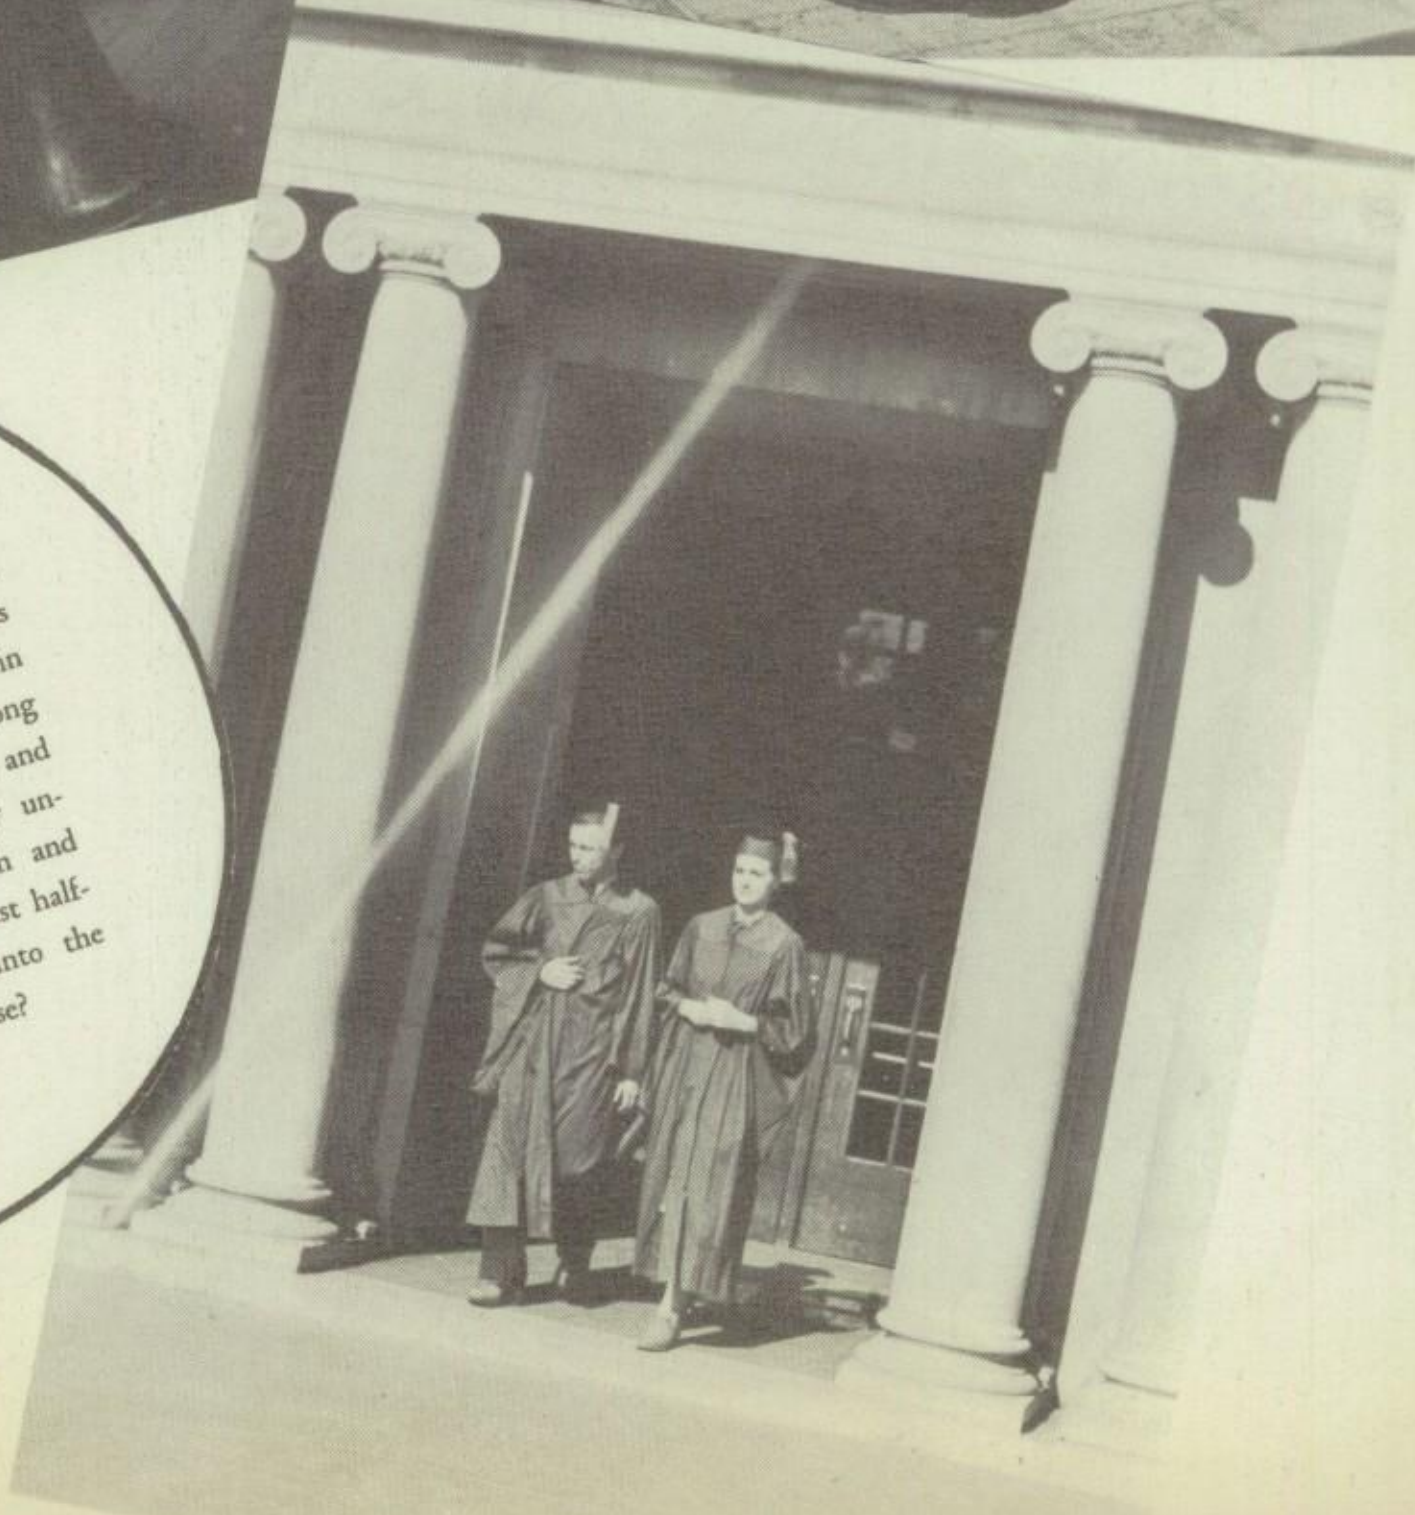
THEN THE FINAL STANZA, and the struggle for an above-flunk quiz-rating. And the guy behind the feet demonstrates the typical boulevard exam pose. Study in brown, mebbe. Ben Morris takes a long last look at things, takes his diploma, and takes his leave. He also takes any unguarded silverware. Robert Cornish and Ruth Raborn, having walked the last half-mile toward freedom, step out into the weather and who knows what else?



ATHLETICS

Football

Weight • Speed • Experience

With a veteran line and backfield, the gridiron machine had a successful season, winning eight out of the ten games they played. Boasting the weight and speed of such men as Dick Palmer, Paul East, Ash Norris, Bill Bagwell, Chester Robertson, and Dick Wilson in the line, and such experience and speed in the backfield as Sam Maupin, Emile Meyer, Joe Pounder, and Jack Marquette, the Comets easily beat the freshmen from Southwestern Teachers' College by a score of 17-0. The Lawton fray was next, with the Comets going down in the last quarter on a hide-out play. The final score stood Lawton 7, Classen 6.

The Amarillo game was a different story. Bill Bagwell's converting beat the Sandies for the first time on their own field. This score was 7-6 also, but the Comets were on the winning side. Tulsa fell next by a 20-0 score, and the Shooting Stars were all set for the big fray with Central. Things looked fine at the half, with Classen leading by one slim point, but Marquette's punt was blocked in the third quarter and the final score was 13-7 in favor of the Cards. The Comets came back with a revengeful air the next three games and trounced Blackwell, El Reno, and Chickasha by 33-0, 57-0, and 49-6 respectively. Shawnee was next to fall before the Comets, George Gibbons making his only score of the season by converting the winning point that placed the final score at 20-19. The gridsters wound up the season by defeating the Redskins of Capitol Hill by a 7-0 score. This was the first time in nine years that the Comets were able to win over Capitol Hill.

With such a powerful team Classen placed several players on the all-city and all-state teams. Captain Joe Pounder and Dick Palmer made both of these honor teams, while Chester Robertson, Al Scanland, and Bill Bagwell placed on the all-city. Lee Cook and Jack Marquette received honorable mention.

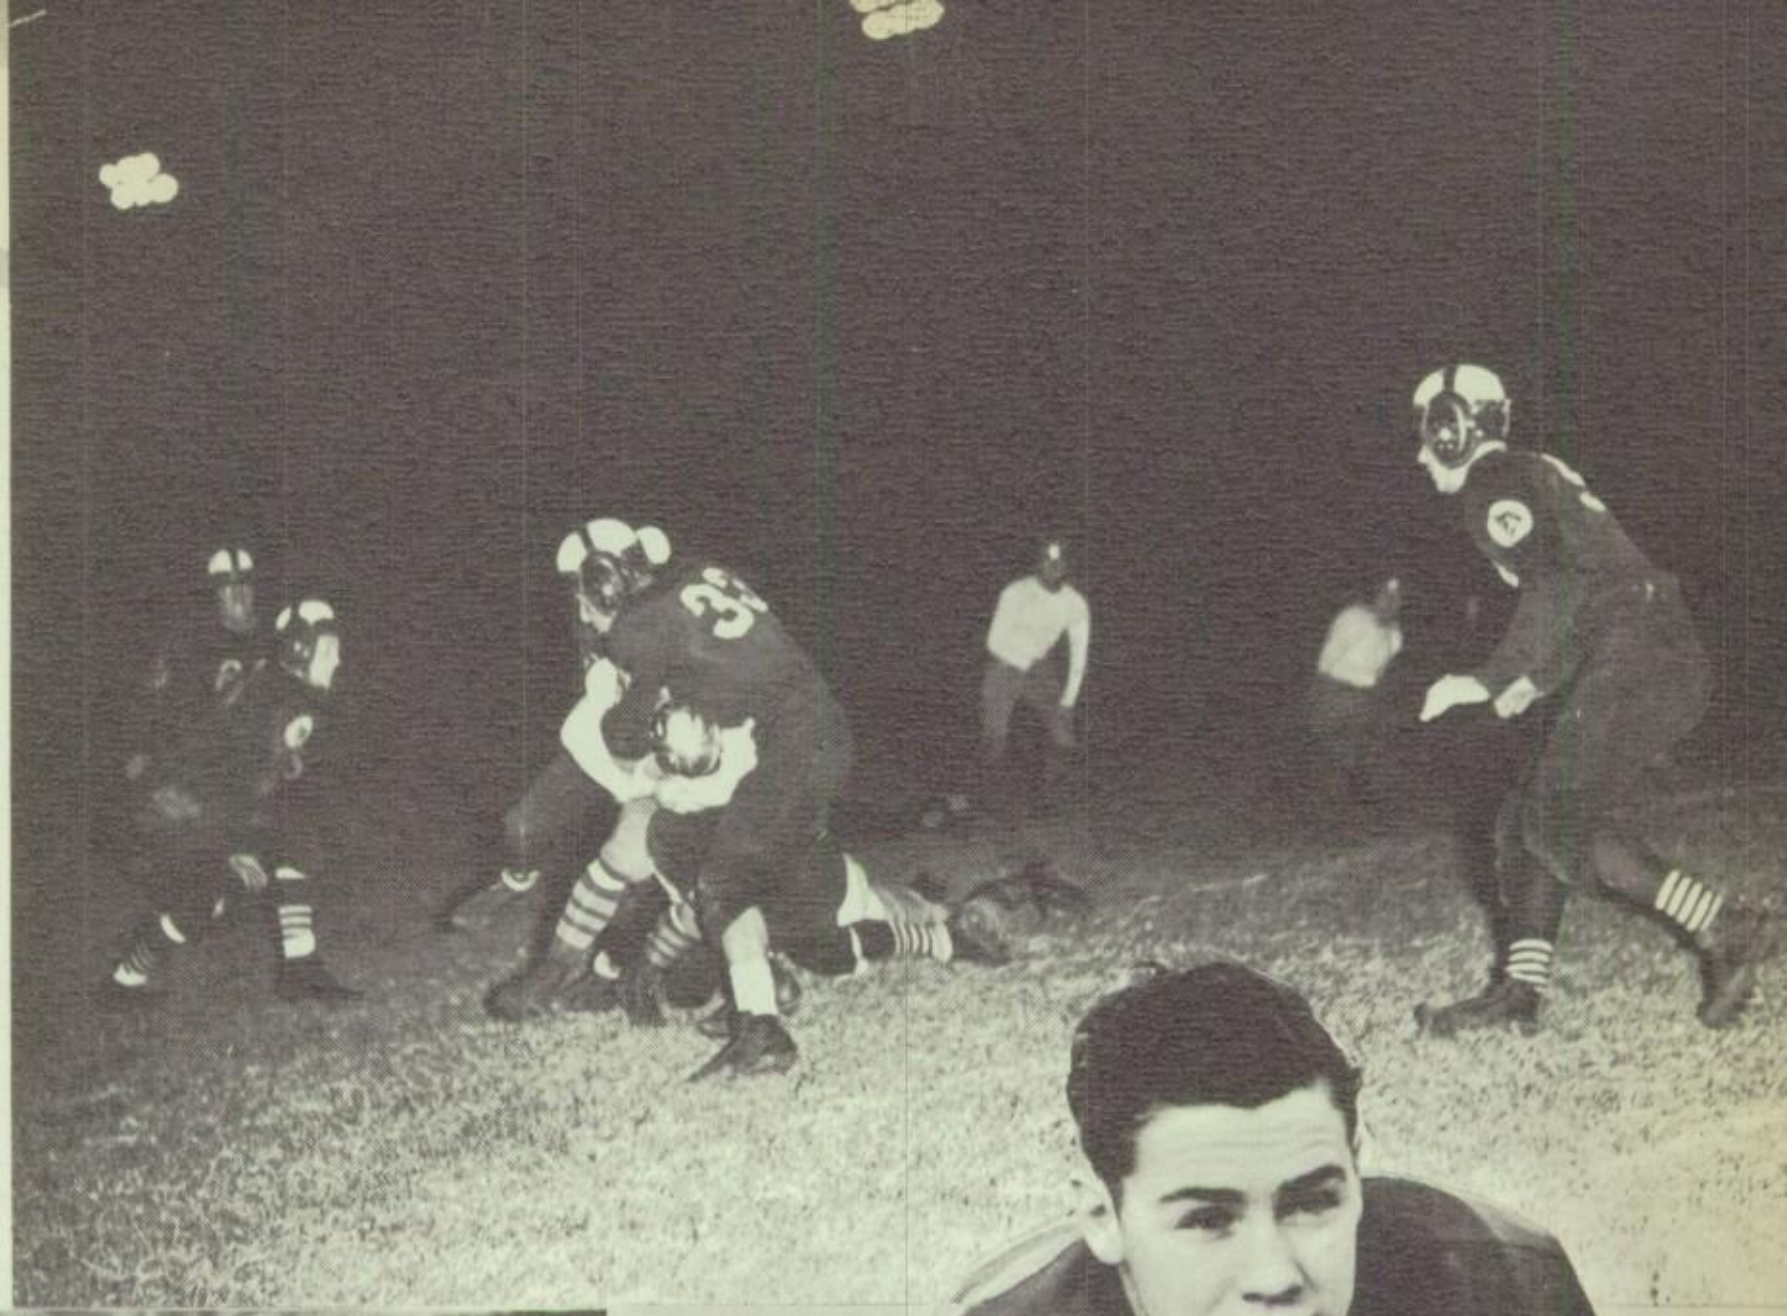
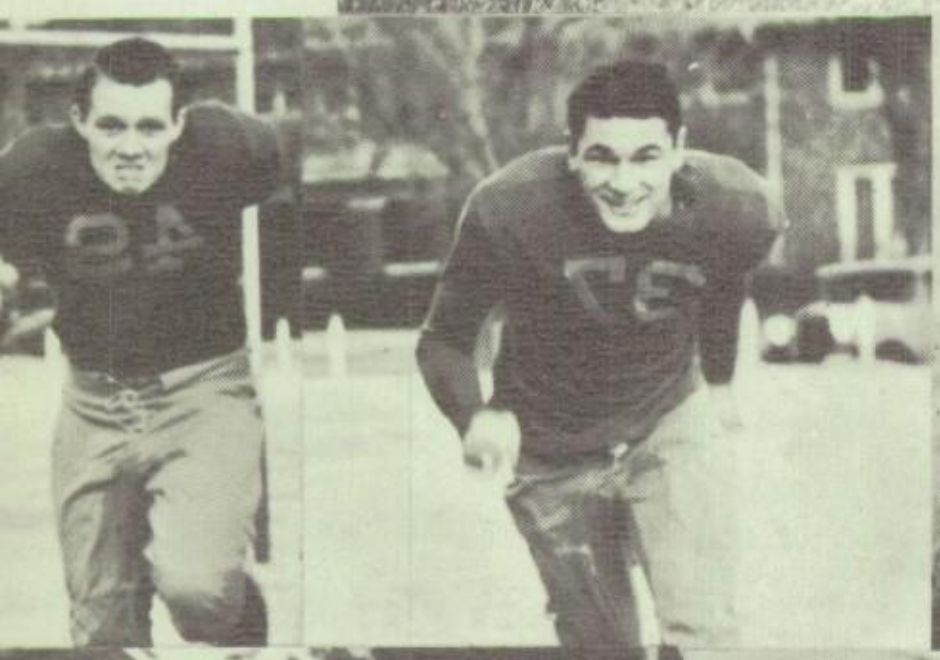
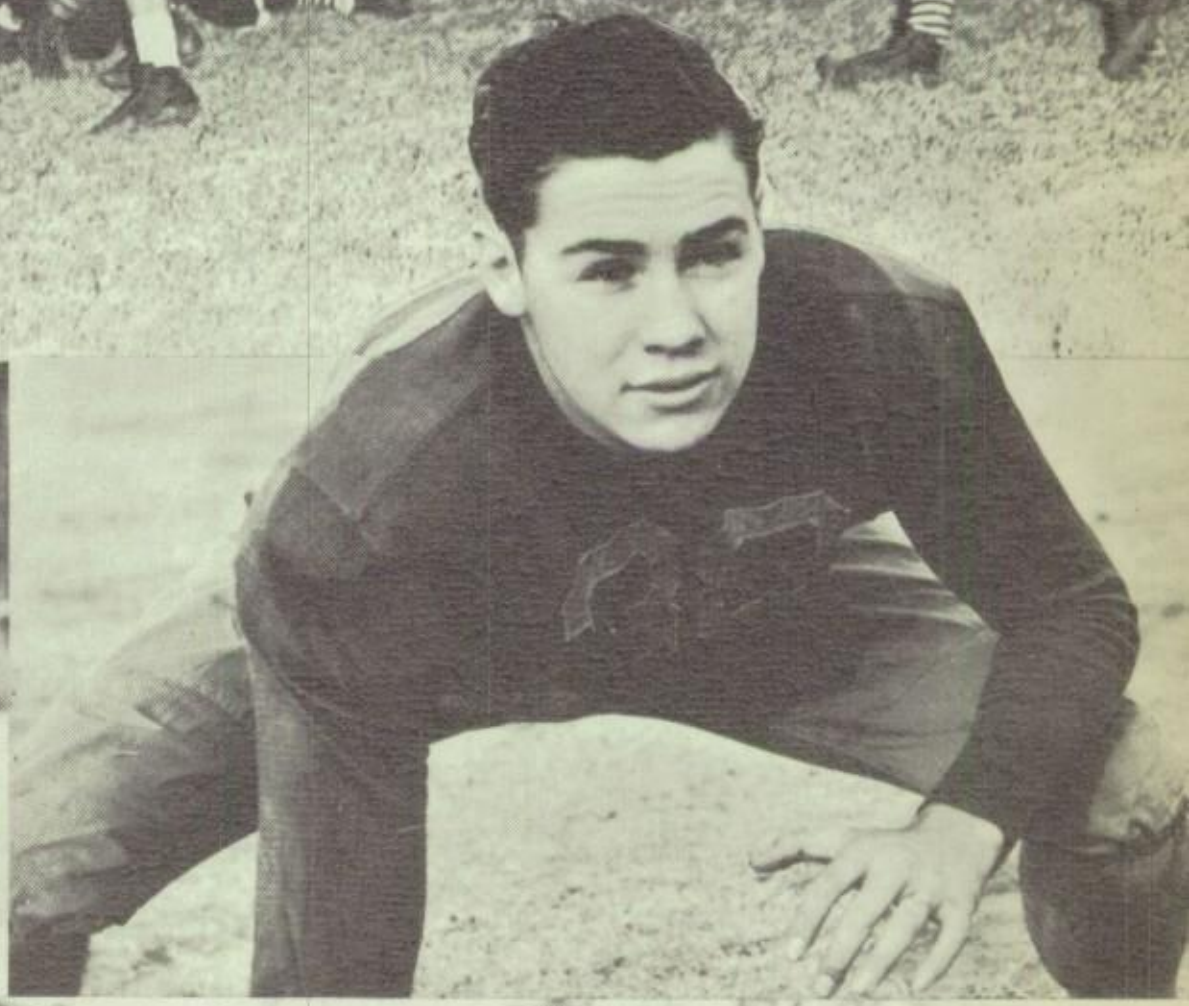
Football

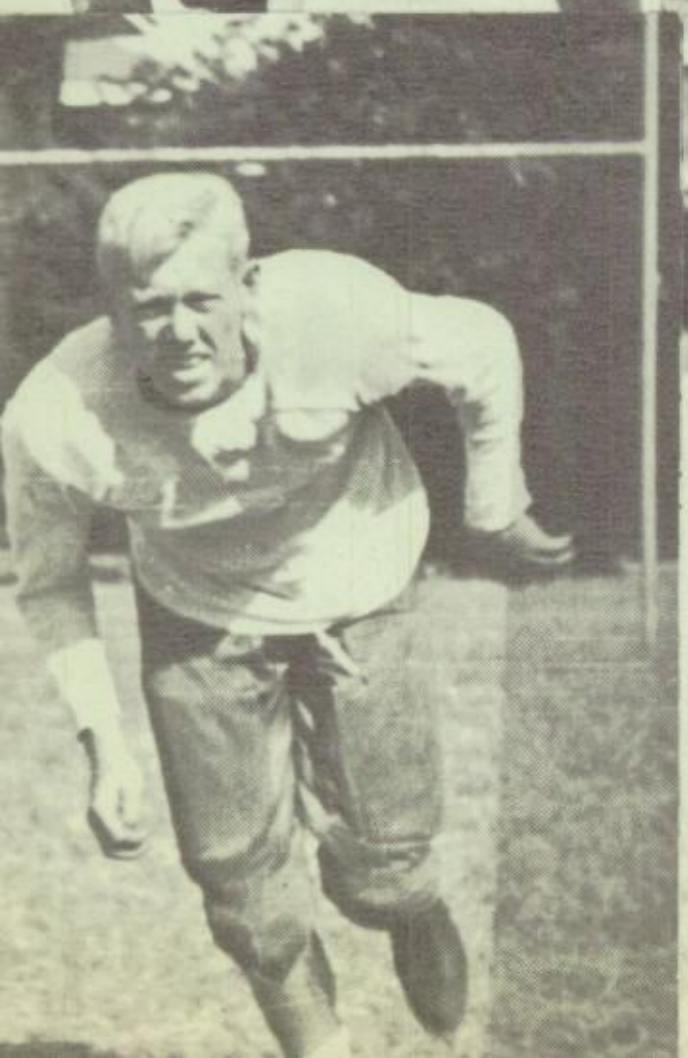
Next fall, with only ten returning lettermen, Coach Higbie faces the Herculean task of trying to form a winning gridiron combination. With Cook, Wallace, East, and Marquette the only first string men, the future does not look particularly bright. However, Finley, Kelley, Light, Meyer, Tankersley, and Fernberg are all lettermen and it is around these boys that "Hig" will build next year's team. Paul East and Jack Marquette, the newly elected co-captains, will be the spark-plugs of the line and backfield, respectively, with Emile Meyer and David Wallace almost sure of at least all-city. With these boys and several graduates from the "B" squad, Higbie is working faithfully, and a better-than-average team may still be in the offing.

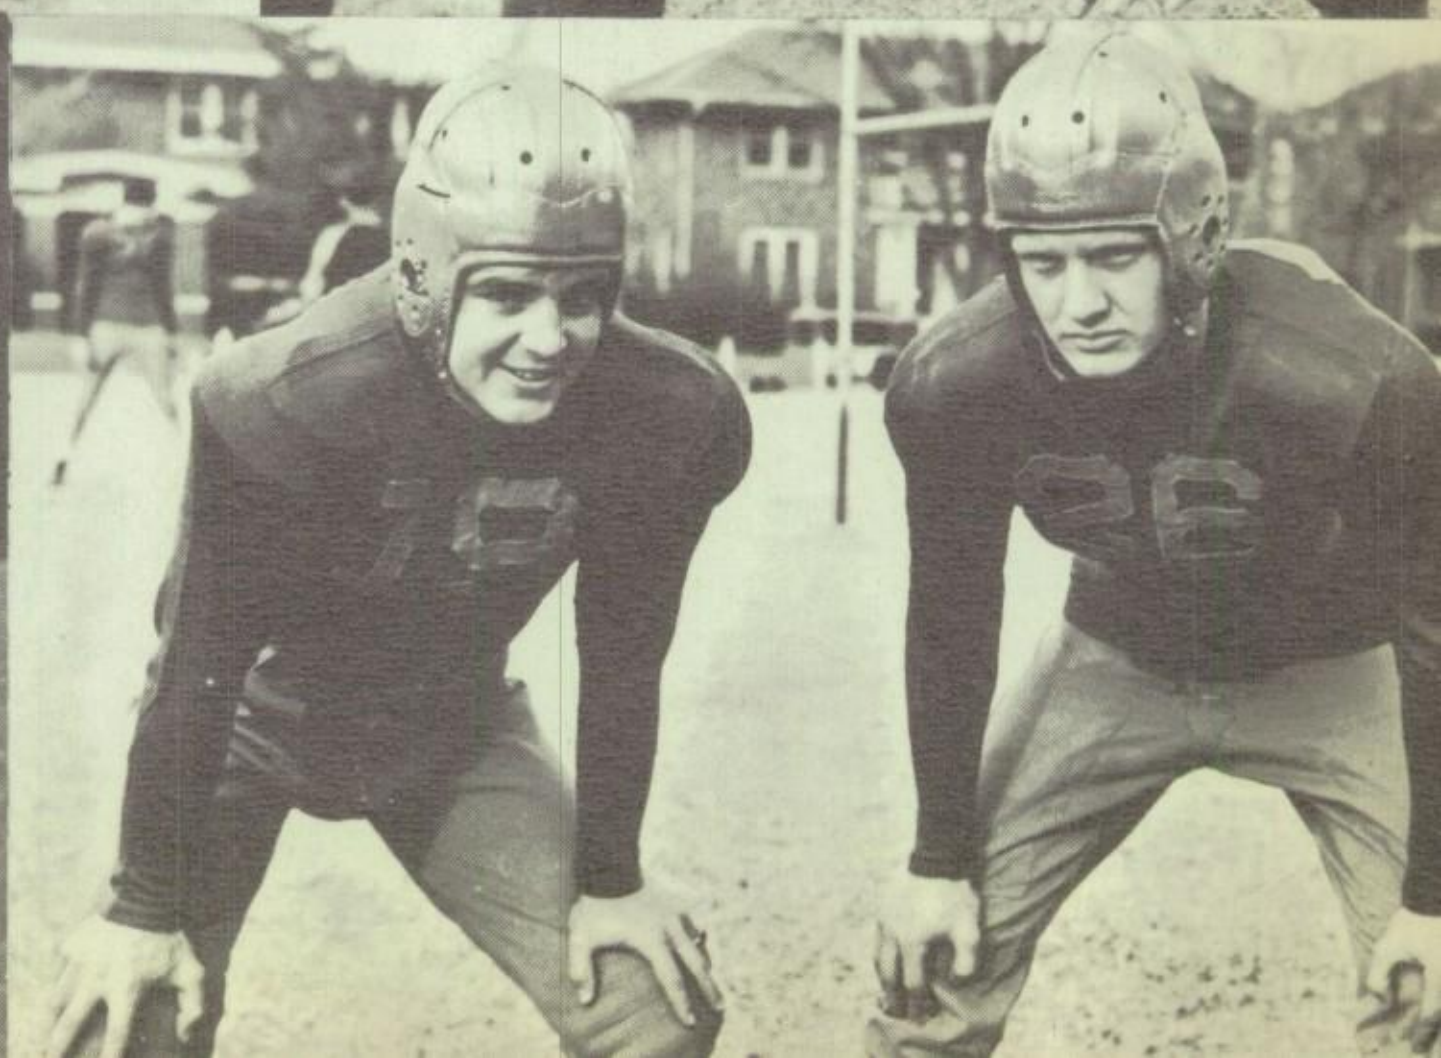
In the upper left hand corner is Joe Pounder, captain of the '38 team. Joe suffered an accident at Amarillo when he was hit in the eye by a football, but he recuperated in time to lead the Central attack and make all-state. To the right of Ash Norris, Classen's mammoth tackle who was put out of the Central game with a broken jaw, is Dick Palmer, another all-stater and a strong point in the Comet's forward wall, and George Gibbons, senior class prexy. Below is Fred Pahlke, blocking back, and to the right are Bill Durham and Dick Wilson, quarter and center respectively.











Basketball

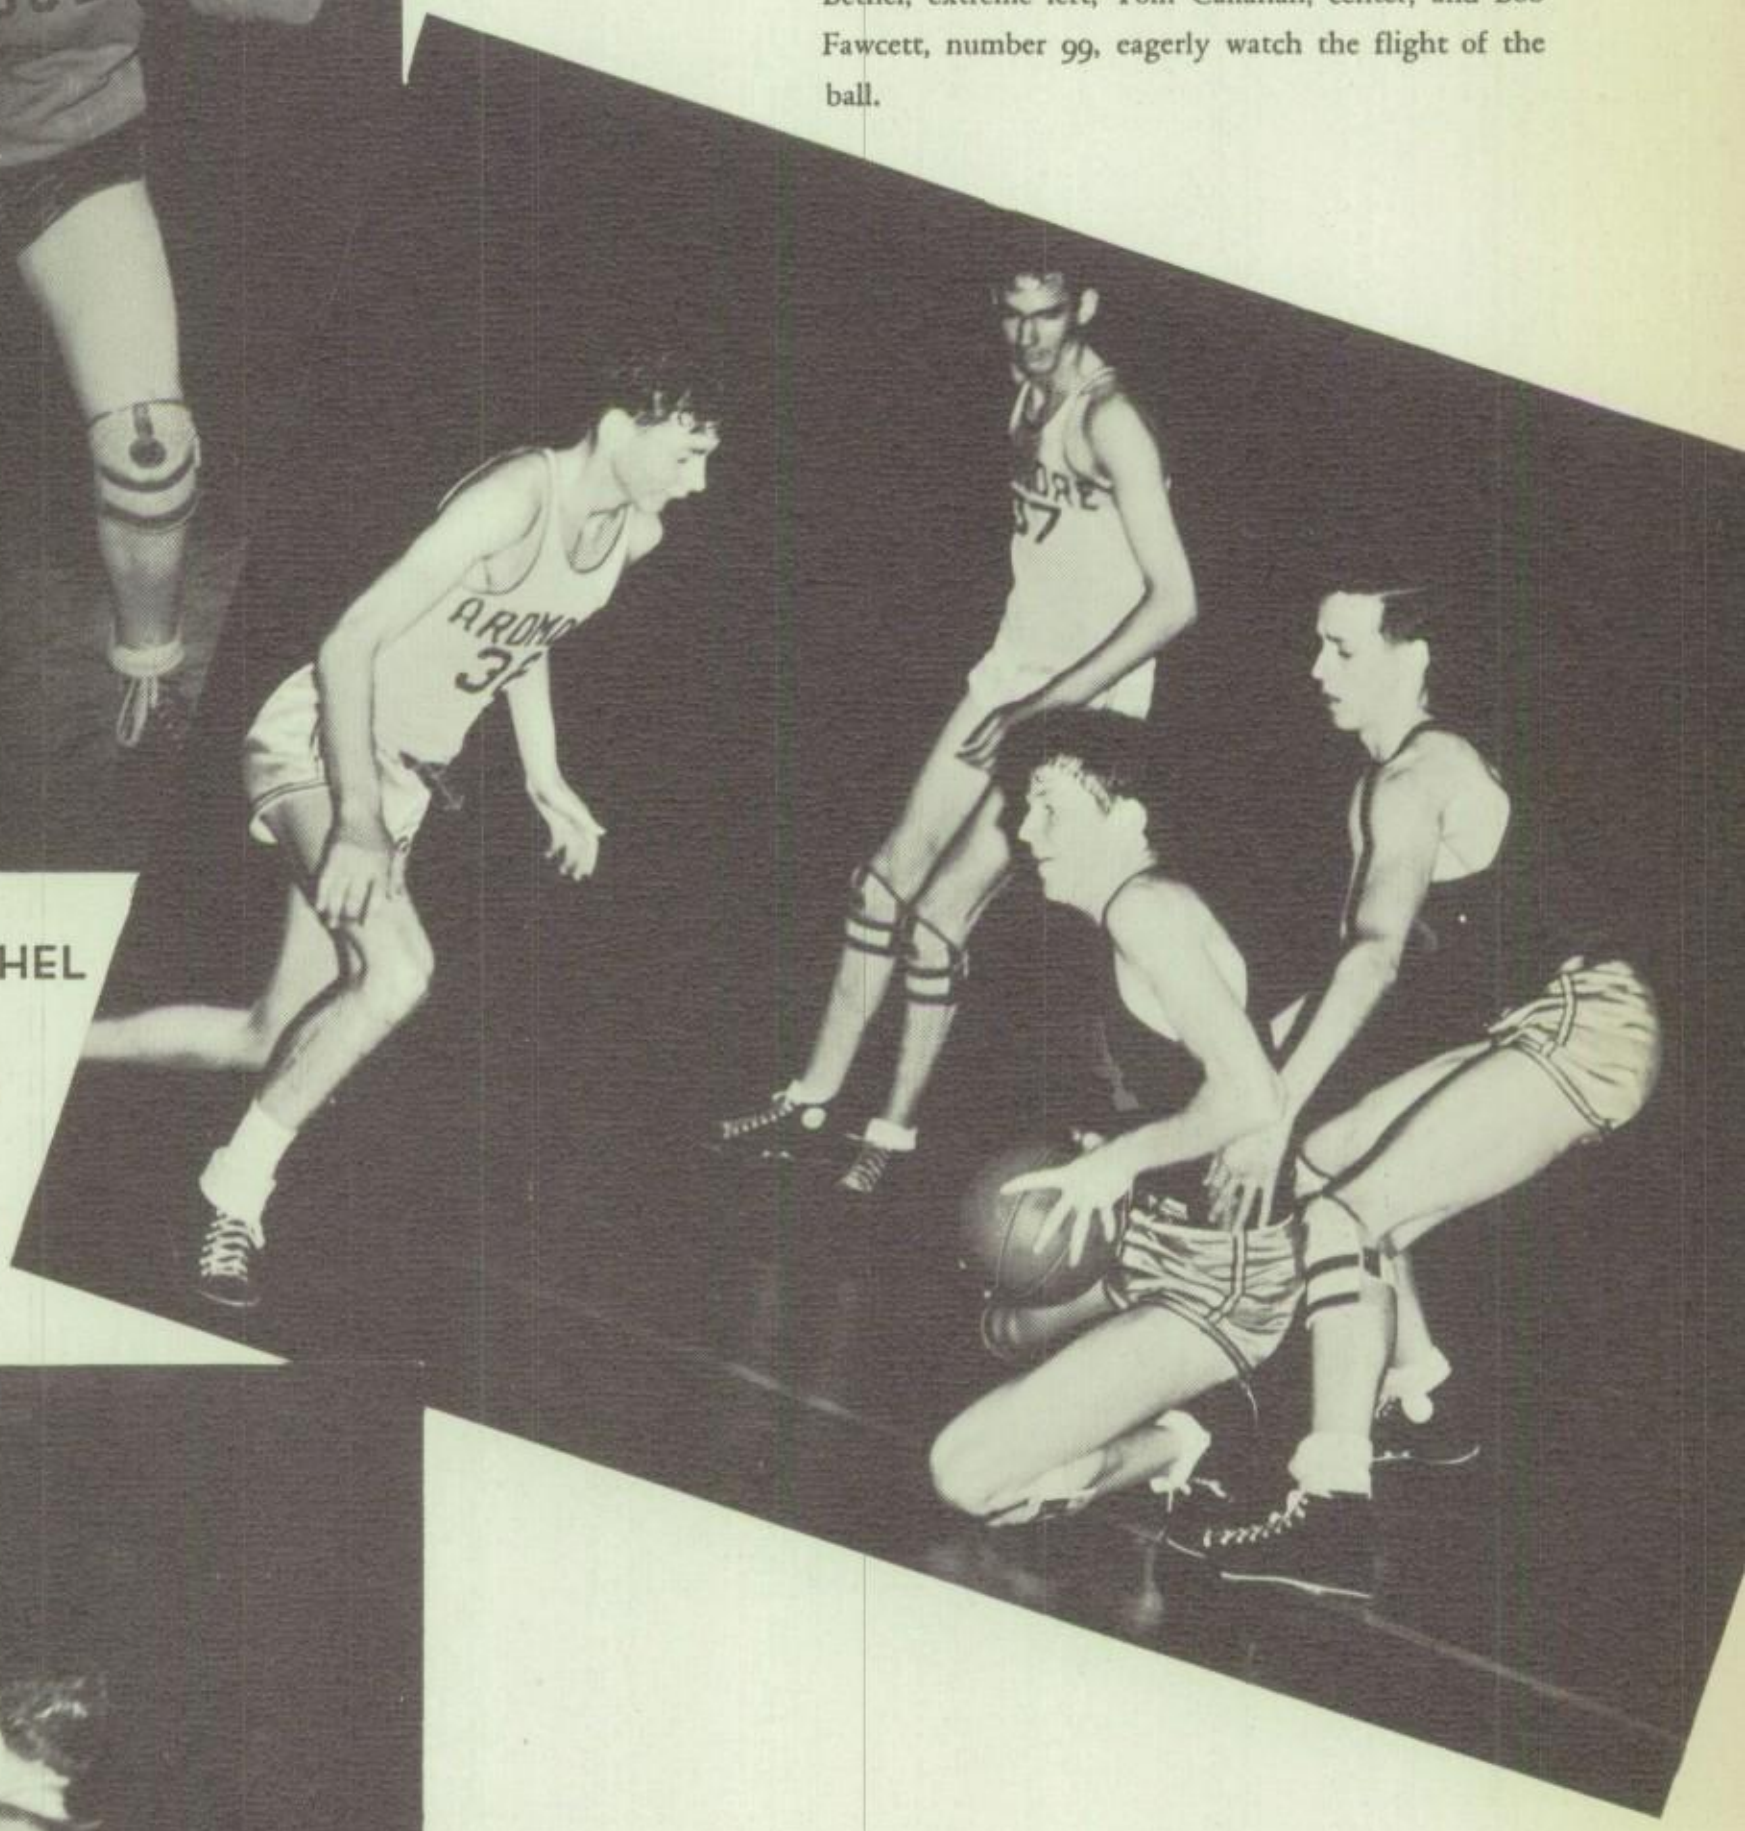
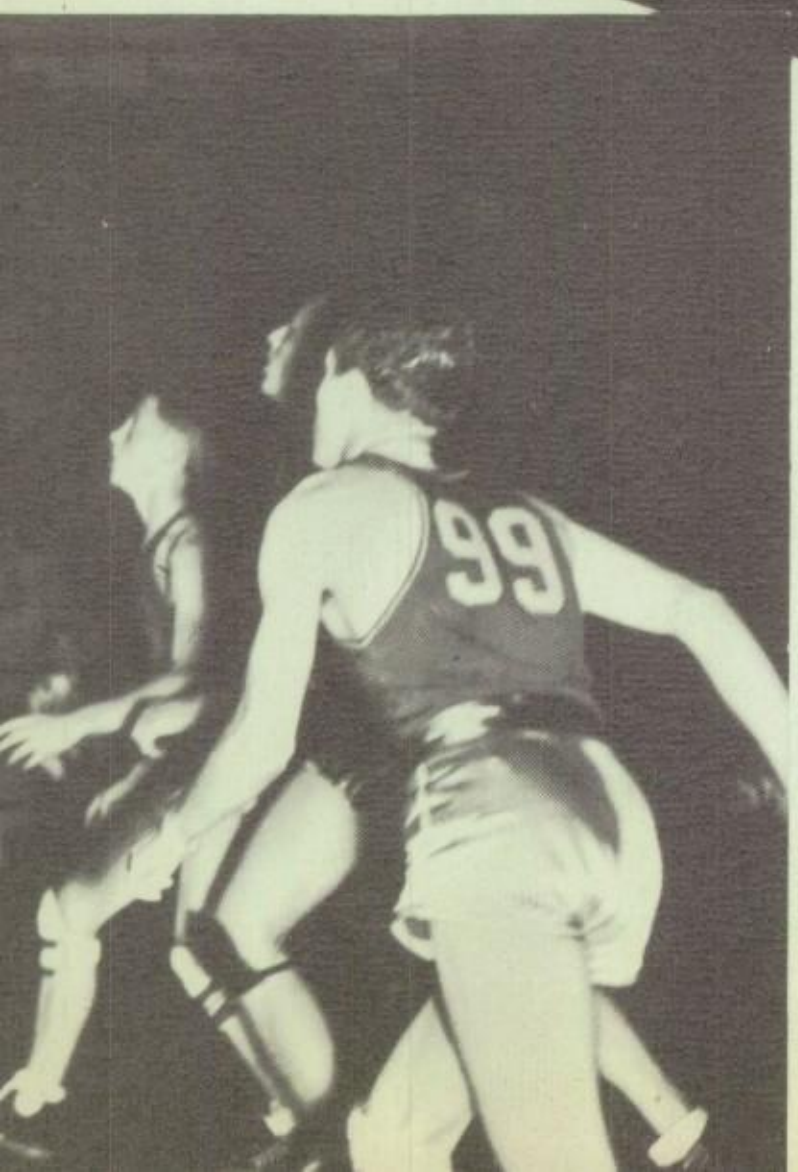
With a team composed mostly of juniors, "Skimmer" opened the season by eking out a 17-16 victory over St. Gregory of Shawnee. Britton and Buhler, Kansas, were next to fall before the Comets before Cushing tumbled them on their home court by a 19-17 count. Cushing then visited the Comets and was defeated 27-19. The Classen cagers downed Shawnee and Chickasha only to be swamped by El Reno and Tulsa in the next two encounters. Capitol Hill visited the Classen gym to open the city race and was turned back by a 26-24 score. The city race continued as Central thumped the Comets 16-11 in a dull game.

CHARLES BETHEL
Captain

Directly below, Bob Fawcett, with the ball, seems to be having trouble standing up, but team-mate Bob Geatches is nearby to lend a helping hand. At the bottom of the page, Harreld Kelley, number 10, has just made a shot at the bucket. Charles Bethel, extreme left, Tom Callahan, center, and Bob Fawcett, number 99, eagerly watch the flight of the ball.

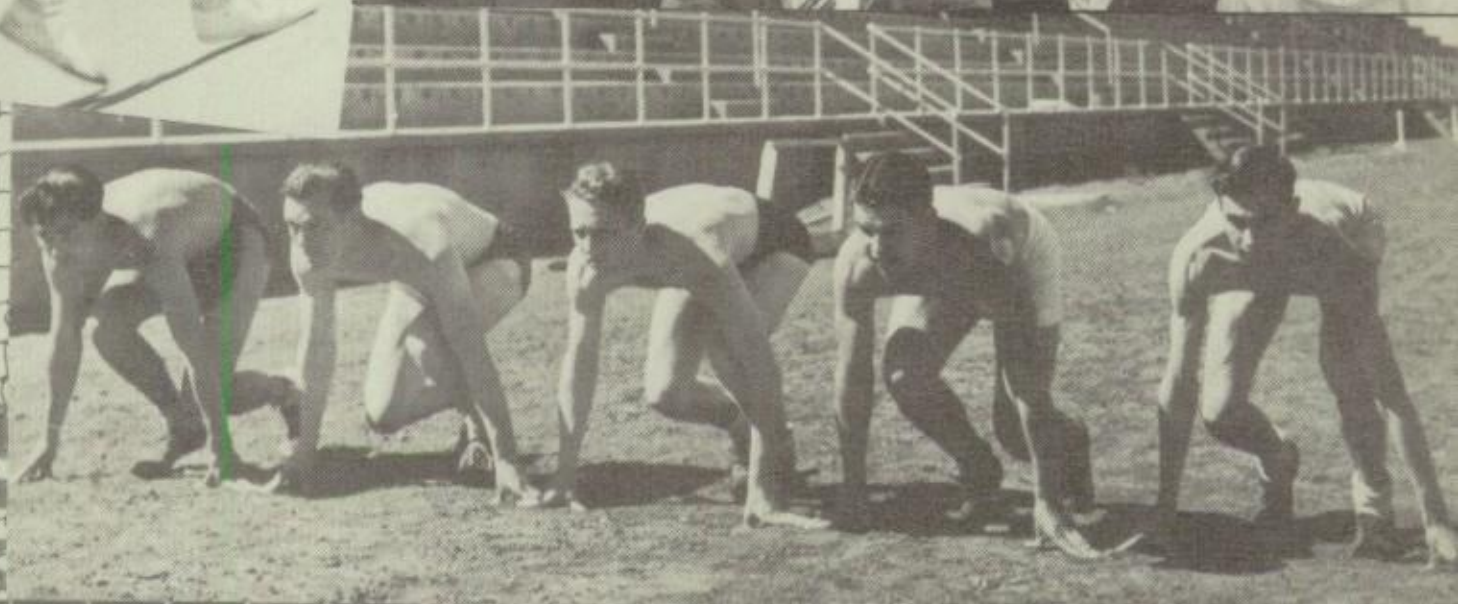




Norman, Ada, and Shawnee were the next victims of the Comets, but Ardmore snapped their winning streak by a 37-35 count. Capitol Hill was then defeated. Ardmore again met the Comets and defeated them. Tulsa also was victorious over the Shooting Stars by the overwhelming score of 45-24. The Boulevard cagers came back with a vengeance next game and scored an upset by defeating El Reno 24-15 and then defeating Norman 22-21 in an overtime. Central again defeated Classen and the regular season ended with thirteen wins and eight losses. Classen defeated Putnam City in the district tournament only to fall before Central for the third time, 24-16.

MINOR

With one of the largest but greenest turn-outs in Classen history, Coach "Nub" Shelton turned out a track team that won second in the city and missed first in the mid-state by a single point. Lee Cook was elected captain and proved himself worthy of his team-mates by pole-vaulting 12 feet 4 inches, just 2 inches short of the state record. The relay teams were the outstanding factions on this year's team. Gene Reynolds, Lee Cook, Lawrence Hayes, Lawrence Holmboe, and Bill McIntyre were the contributing cindermen. Theodore Roberts placed second in the mile run at the state meet.



SPORTS

Harassed all year by hard luck, Coach Earl Coffey's tennis team still managed to get their share of honors on the state courts. Carl Mitchell, number one man, was troubled with an injured side at the state meet, but managed to get into the finals where he lost in straight sets. However, both doubles teams reached the finals and Bill McMurry and Carl Mitchell won from Jack Griggs and Paul Darrough. Bill was in bed for the first of the season and so Classen suffered in the various dual meets. However, with one senior and such outstanding underclassmen as Walter Moore, Stanley Draper, Paul Darrough, and Jack Griggs, the prospects look more than bright for next year.

Paced by Captain Jimmie Sales, the Comet tankmen had a successful year, placing third in the state by virtue of a one-point loss to Central. The Comets were weakened at mid-semester by the loss of Albert Exendine and Paul Droege, but men like Earl James, Kenneth Morgan, Jeff Donalson, J. B. Turner, and Earl Horton proved themselves capable of carrying the load. Hit hard by graduation, the prospects for next year are not particularly bright, but Earl James, Fred Lyon, Kenneth Morgan, Bob Coffey, and Scott Kile will be the nucleus.

Starting in the left hand corner and reading clockwise are: "Nub" Shelton, gym instructor and track coach; Paul East, catcher and first baseman on the nine and 1939 football co-captain; Harreld Kelley, forward on the cage team; Jack Marquette, the other co-captain; Choice Rucker, assistant football coach; Jack Huckaby and Bob Stroud, fencers; and the 1939 baseball team.

Baseball

As runners-up in the state baseball tournament and co-champions of the city, the Classen nine had a nice year. With Bob Anneler and Luther Morris the only newcomers to the team, Coach Rucker had a team that boasted as much batting power as any team in the state and as good fielding. Charles Bethel and Bill Taylor did the chunking with Luther Morris and John McMains on the receiving end of the batteries. Marquette, Kelley, and Wallace covered the outfield, and Buster Randol's excellent fielding and batting won him a place in the hearts of all the fans. Since the team is composed mostly of juniors, the outlook for next year's squad is bright. Fawcett and Randol are the only seniors.

Second Row: Kathryn Janger, senior assembly committee chairman; Elaine Bretch, speaker committee chairman; Bill Bagwell, invitation committee chairman.

CLASS OF 1939

The fall of 1938 saw 550 seniors begin their class activities by an election of officers that netted official titles to President George Gibbons, Vice-President Martha Lou Miller, Secretary Peggy Samis, and Treasurer Betty Herd. Sponsors of the class who followed its activities through three years at Classen are Miss Berniece Gordon, Mrs. Mary Lois Boorom, Mrs. Edna L. Hedges, Mrs. Mavanee Johnson, Mr. Nils Lago, and Mr. Charles Sample.

Graduation activities began with the senior awards assembly May 4, followed that evening by the junior-senior prom at which the graduates were entertained by the underclassmen. Springlake Casino took on a festive air that night, the festivities being led by Paul Fondren, junior class president, and the rhythms being furnished by the Varsity Club orchestra.

May 18 was the next red-letter day for the seniors when they gathered in the auditorium for the senior assembly. Paul Harris, chosen "poet-laureate" of the class, read the class poem. The will, which was written by George Gibbons and Ed Hoffman, and the prophecy, as foretold by Betty Pickren and Martha Lou Miller, were also read at that time.

Next in line was the senior sermon which was held Sunday, May 21, in the auditorium. The following Tuesday the Senior Class of 1939 took a last look at Classen after a breakfast at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club. Diploma-time came that night at the Municipal Auditorium; Mr. Kenneth W. McFarland of Coffeyville, Kansas, gave the commencement address to the graduates after which they received their "sheep-skins".

UNDERCLASSMEN

Junior Under the leadership of their energetic president, Paul Fondren, who gives a great deal of his time to school activities and still has time for his studies, the junior class devoted itself for the most part to its duties in connection with the graduation ceremonies.

Foremost among the activities of the 844 second-year students was the junior-senior prom at which the graduating seniors were entertained by next year's graduates. Committees to arrange for the orchestra, the bids, the place, and the decorations were appointed by the president, and these folks put over one of the best Classen proms in history. Springlake Casino was chosen the place, and music was furnished by the Varsity Club orchestra.

The members of this class also took the responsibility of decorations for the commencement exercise at the Municipal auditorium. Sponsors of the juniors through these activities were Mrs. Marguerite Flood, Miss Retha Wave Hulet, Miss Lucille Tandy, Miss Opal Ridenour, and Mr. Karl Brown.

Sophomore Their junior high school diplomas tucked away in their memory books, some 727 sophomores let no "first-year" hindrances stand in their way but got down to business early in the school year. First, just to let folks know they were around, they had a nomination and election of officers which lasted for several weeks. Bill Clarke, following in the footsteps of his older brother, Bob, '38 grad, was chosen president.

Individuals among this group of sophs have also done their share of putting their class on the records by participating in (and in many cases winning recognition) extra-curricular activities such as speech events, band work, and literary fields. These folks have begun well their preparations for doing big things in their next two years at Classen.

When the members of the sophomore class have needed guidance in their class activities they have been advised by the sophomore sponsors who are Mr. A. M. Kincaid, Miss Maxine Appleman, Mrs. Geraldine Buzbee, Miss Miriam Gilmore, and Mr. Robert Reid.
